WILL NOT GET ON SCALES

Billy Gibson Says Fans Must Guess at Weight of the Title Holder

By HARRY B. SMITH

YOU'LL have to take it out in guessing if you want to know Benny Leonard's weight when he steps into the ring at the Civic Auditorium for his bit of a tussle with Willie Ritchie next Friday evening.

Billy Gibson says it isn't being done in boxing circles these days—giving away the poundage of the champion. And as Gibson comes close to ruling the Leonard roost these days, there will be no exact comparison as to just what will be the pull in the weights.

For one thing, Gibson has an idea that to make weight would mean to risk the championship title. I can't quite get his angle but so long as he feels that way about it you can't change his mind. At all events, Gibson said most emphatically yesterday afternoon in the Shannon training quarters that he simply couldn't think of letting Benny get on the scales either on the night of the fight or any other old time.

Gibson Is Against Jumping on Scales

"Leonard doesn't make weight unless the conditions of a match require or there happen to be regulations of some boxing commission. And even then I don't let him strip for his weight. Before the Dundee match he weighed with his shoes and bathrobe, and for all anybody knows, 2 might have had some extra weight in the pockets of the bathrobe."

However, Gibson does come guessing of his own. But as to whether he's camouflaging, you'll have to decide for yourselves. According to the manager, Leonard will weigh around 134 when he is finished with his last workout next Thursday afternoon.

Gibson points out that Benny never weighed more than 141 pounds in all his life, even in street attire, and insists that his lad is as legitimate a lightweight as any champion that ever stepped into the ring.

And that wasn't all from Gibson.

He handed out a line of talk pretty much of the same sort as discoursed by Ritchie the other afternoon.

"I know that Ritchie can take a lot of punishment and that he's a tough boy to beat," he argued, "but I don't believe that Willie was ever up against as hard a puncher as Leonard. I know that Benny always stands a chance of stopping any opponent he can hit, and I'm just lucky enough to imagine he's going to hit Ritchie when they tangle up."

Leonard Show at San Quentin a Wonder

The Leonard show yesterday was a unique sort of an affair. It started at 9 o'clock in the morning, when Leonard, the first champion ever to do such a thing, boxed with Harry Pelsinger and cleaned with Willie Meehan before the inmates of San Quentin.

There were 1700 of these men who had the treat of their lives. The lid was off; they could yell just as loud as they cared and they did. Yell and scream, and from what the boys say, there just never was anything like it.

Some of the men—old-timers particularly—have seen boxing scraps in the yard; others are acquainted with Meehan from boxing, but the performance yesterday was decidedly out of the ordinary.

When the boxing was all over, Willie Meehan "favored" with a couple of songs and the strangest fight show of the season had come to a close.

Eddie Mahoney, O. C., Boms With Champion

It was more serious stuff in the afternoon, when the lads of the gym. There was a good turnout of the Tigers, to say nothing of a scattering from the public ex- and Leonard, in spite of his earlier performance, stined nothing.

Dave Symon took Eddie Mahoney across the bay and two rounds with the former Olympic Club lad varied the monotony of the boxing with Pelsinger. Dave had asked for a stiff performance on Leonard's part in order to give Mahoney the acid test.

It could hardly be called anything of the sort. Eddie's nose started to bleed in the first round and Leonard loafed in the second.

Pelsinger threw a lot of life into his three-round session. All in all, it was a good day's work, Gibson says Benny isn't going to slacken for the next few days. He is banking on roadwork as his main asset for conditioning. Just now he looks as trim as need be, but if he requires more shaping up, he'll certainly get it before the week is out.

Ritchie took a day off yesterday. The champion wasn't altogether a loafer for he played in two rounds of the Olympic Club golf tournament and is now in the finals of his flight. Whether Willie will win out in the flight probably depends largely upon what happens next Friday night. The golf tournament will be finished next Saturday.

The advance sale of reserved seats opens today with Lord Harry Mezan in charge of the pasteboards.

Flynn and Lawrence On Oakland Card

Jimmy Nelson is going to stage a triple main event at the Oakland Auditorium next Saturday afternoon. Washington's birthday. He has one heavy-weight match and a couple of lightweights.

Fireman Jim Flynn, recently beaten by Jimmy Darcy in Portland, is to box Pat Larue. Joe Azevedo, old-time lightweight, is to mix with Johnny Duffy and Lucky Dundee will box Young Azevedo, who has been making quite a name for himself in Oakland.

In addition there will be three or five preliminaries.

WILLIE RITCHIE IN GOLF FINAL OF HIS FLIGHT

Ex-Champion Has Chance to Win Trophy in O. C. Tournament

DR. H. E. LAW VS. W. T. WOOD

Much Enthusiasm Marks Play of Club Men on Links at Lakeside

By HAY CHAPMAN

THE Olympic Club's very successful tournament, the first in its history, was brought to the final stage at Lakeside yesterday, the finalists for the club championship and in the four supplementary flights meeting next Saturday over thirty-six holes.

In the championship division the two golfers left are Dr. Hubert E. Law, winner of the qualifying medal, and W. T. Wood, one of the Presidio's old guard. Honors in the second flight will be contested by Dr. Wood and J. F. Brennan, while the remaining divisions of Ritchie has fought his way to the finals.

The results of yesterday's matches were as follows:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Second round—Dr. H. E. Law defeated Oliver Dibble, 4 and 3; Eaton McMillan defeated C. Schwerdtfeger, 2 up; W. T. Wood defeated Dr. Stebbins, 4 and 3; Dr. F. R. Kohler defeated Dr. Ayers, 2 up; J. F. Brennan, 2 up.

SEMI-FINALS

Law defeated McMillan, 4 and 3; Wood defeated Brennan, 1 up.

SECOND FLIGHT

Walter Malin, a sturdy southpaw, who jumped the Portland team two years ago to work in a Seattle shipyard, wants to be forgiven. McCredie would gladly take him back, but Walter belongs to Pittsburg, though he does not know it.

Malin is a San Rafael boy, who started his baseball career in Seattle. He showed a lot of ability and was taken by Brooklyn. He is eccentric, and did not make the most of his ability and was finally shuttled to Pittsburg, from where he was switched to Portland.

Walter writes that he is married now and has cut out all the nonsense that he used to do hard to handle. But he would settle down he could win some pennants in the league.

Earl Baldwin, the Oakland boy who was drafted by the New York Yanks from Portland, does not like the contract sent him and he says if the figures are not boosted he will not report. Earl recently returned from France.

Pete Starsaincch to Get Chance With Bees

Pete Starsaincch, an Oakland boy who has chown considerable class in the minor ball, is to get a chance with Salt Lake. Pete can play the infield and outfield; do a little catching and pitching on the side, and hit the ball hard. Aside from that he hasn't much but that name, that will have to be sawed into sections if he ever breaks into the box scores in the Coast League.

Pete's friends say he has been worth a trial for some time, but Herbie Moran, the demon scout of the Oaks, evidently did not think much of him, for the contracts he offered were spurned with haughty disdain by Pete. Jack Cook made him a satisfactory proposition, however, and now he is going to take a chance. If Pete and Bobby Mowat prove to be fence busters, Herbie will be vexed, for the Oaks had Bobby and had a chance to get Pete.

Bunny Brief Would Like To Join Salt Lake

Bunny Brief would like to play with Salt Lake again. He made a great "rep" ever there a few years ago as a home-run getter. He says he is willing to take a whirl at third base or the outfield, for he knows that is no chance to displace Earl Shealy on first base.

Manager Harr of the Bees wires that he has already grabbed a couple of big league pitchers and a pair of outfielders, but he mentions no names. He had almost closed with St. Louis for either Rumler or Hale as a batter, but when he learns that Jack Cook signed Hack Spencer he will not need them.

In the second contest St. James 120-pound team put up an uphill fight and handed Columbia School the champions of the O. A. L. the short end of a 26-12 score.

St. James Athletics beat all around the High School of Commerce, winning 14-12. The fast Lowell team was the great team work of the St. James, and on the shooting of Sapp of the same team.

BASKETBALL

The Mare Island sailors won the championship of the Service League yesterday afternoon when they defeated the Olympic Club on the latter's court by a score of 48 to 17. The superiority of the sailors was the feature. Most of their shots were difficult, being put in from the center of the floor. The line-up:

Olympic Club	Position	Mare Island
Smith	Forward	C. Smith
Sacco	Forward	Johnson
Hing	Center	Hing

Special Cable to The Chronicle

PARIS, February 14.—Jack Johnson is broke in Spain. The ex-champion is fighting ten-round bouts with various ham fighters and is lucky to grab off a thousand pesetas in purses. Guy Garner, a jockey who has just returned from riding at Saint Sebastian, says the negro is in evidence everywhere, looking pretty seedy, wearing a shabby old fur coat which he boasts cost $1000, but he does not say how long ago, and every little while one of Jack's or Mrs. Johnson's diamonds disappears, presumably going to a pawnshop. A few days ago Johnson fought an interned German U-boat sailor whom he nicknamed Bill Flint of Brooklyn at Madrid.

JACK DUCKS TOUGH GUYS

In the first round the sailor poked Jack in his fat stomach, worrying the negro, but in the second round the German walked straight into Jack's stiff arm, turned around three times and dropped like a dead man for the count. Jack said afterward he would not take on another tough guy like that. Previously he had fought Bilak Kleckhefer in different Spanish cities. Before Bilak starts he takes a glass eye from the socket and places it in his corner of the ring. Jack cuts up McCleskey at will and the Spanish fans think it is a great sight when the ex-champion makes his one-eyed opponent bleed at the mouth, eyes and nose.

The Spaniards don't like prizefighting or horseracing very much, preferring a gory spectacle like a bull fight. Even when Alfonso attends the races there are only a handful of spectators and at none of the Johnson fights are there more than a couple of hundred fans.

AFTER ANOTHER FORTUNE

Johnson announces he has the recipe for a wonderful patent medicine nerve cure that will remake his fortune, but at the same time he tries to borrow money, explaining that his agents in America are holding up his money and saying he still owns Chicago tenements. Johnson says he won't return to the United States, but would like to go to France again, but the American Consul won't O. K. his passport permitting the French trip. Jack says Americans are trying to induce him to return to the States, but he won't because he knows they will grab him the minute he reaches Hills Island.

HE OWES MUCH MONEY

The hotel at Barcelona where Johnson stayed during the time he was running bull fights there is holding his personal property, including much of his wife's clothing. Johnson formerly lived at the Ritz and Palace Hotels in Madrid, but now he is barred from both owing to the non-payment of bills.

When he enters the Palace grillroom or bar where the biggest cabaret and dancing ballroom are continually going full blast, the head waiters frequently approach him with folded bills on plates, asking the payment of old accounts.

Johnson merely waves them aside or kids them if they speak English. Garner is going to Italy next week for the racing season there, pending the opening of the French racing.

After a battle royal, the California varsity basketers emerged victorious over the Stanford five by a score of 29-16, Saturday night. At no time throughout the game did either side have a distinct advantage over the other, the score seesawing first in favor of the blue and gold and then the cardinals. The game was the first contest of the annual three-game series that is contested between the two universities. It was also the deciding game of the California-Stanford League.

Just three a minute after the game started the blue and gold had scored its first goal, quickly followed by a similar score in favor of the Palo Altans. The first half ended in favor of the Californians with the slightest of one point, 15-14, both teams begun the second half in whirlwind form, and the rooters of each institution were constantly on their feet. The game ended with the score in favor of the Berkeleyans, 29-16. The star of the winners was Symons, who threw practically every goal.

While the two varsities were battling at Berkeley the Babes had a set-to of their own at Palo Alto. The California freshmen had an easy time in winning with a 27-6 score. Both games had capacity audiences.

The University of Nevada will meet St. Mary's College in Reno next Saturday night.

De Oro Regains 3-Cushion Title From Kieckhefer

CHICAGO, February 16.—Alfred de Oro, the Cuban cue expert from New York, last night wrested the three-cushion billiard championship from Angie Kieckhefer of Chicago by winning the third block of their 150-point match. The total score was 150 to 146 in De Oro's favor.

Just a year ago this month Kieckhefer won the title by defeating De Oro. Within the year Kieckhefer has met all comers and successfully defended his title several times.

In the latest match Kieckhefer won the first and tied second block, although De Oro displayed the most brilliant work. Each night his high runs exceeded those of Kieckhefer's. The third block ended Friday night with Kieckhefer still five points ahead—100 to 95.

De Oro won the final block losing by a score of 55 to 48 in the closest sort of match play.

CHARLEY Graham was one surprised fellow when he heard that Ed Spencer had signed with Salt Lake. He understood that Ed was dickering with the other clubs besides the Seals, but he thought that Ed would at least give him a chance to compete with the offers of other clubs, and he says he was prepared to go as strong as any other club in the minors for his services.

When Graham talked with Spencer that he rather said Dolly Stark was taken by Brooklyn. He is eccentric, and did not make the most of his ability and was finally shuttled to Pittsburg, from where he was switched to Portland.

Del Monte Wins In Polo Match

Special Dispatch to The Chronicle.

DEL MONTE, February 14.—In match replete with sensational features, Del Monte defeated the Stanford team today, 6½ to 5. It was hip and tuck all the way.

Walter S. Hobart, the famous player signalized his return to the game by playing back for San Mateo, and he was arrayed in a bathing suit and riding trousers. Just to show that costume does not make the player, Hobart scored the first goal.

Hugh Drury, Dan Fuller and Lawrence McCreery each scored two goals for Del Monte, and W. H. Post added the other point. Del Monte being penalized for two safeties.

Lieutenant-Colonel Devereaux and Harry Hunt each scored twice for San Mateo, and Walter Hobart scored over the other goal. Francis Grace was also in San Mateo's line-up. F. B. Moore refereed.

The final count was 14-14, after Troop 42 in the lead.

In the second contest St. James 120-pound team put up an uphill fight and handed Columbia School the champions of the O. A. L. the short end of a 26-12 score.
