THE CHARLESTON IS HOME AGAIN. After Two Years' Absence She Once More Reaches Port. The ship, built by the Scots, is the pride of the Union Iron Works. It had several misfaps during its long voyage. A Japanese invasion is probable as Chinese are driving them out of Hawaii. The ship is considerably overdue and over twenty per cent reinsurance was paid on her last week. The Italian Consul-General is satisfied with the ship's appearance. The Civil Engineers take an outing to visit the pre-Idaho fortifications. The mortars in the beds are being inspected. The Cav. Serra is satisfied with the ship's performance. The ship is expected to arrive in the bay tomorrow morning.
