2 THE EXAMINER, SAN FRANCISCO: TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 21, 1891.

OCCURRENCES ON THE COAST.

Those Who May Vote in the New Glenn County.

GOV. MARKHAM'S FIRST PARDON.

Constable Hawkins of Prescott Shot by a Prisoner—An Incendiary at Work in Jackson—Hoist for Receiving Stolen Goods—An Oregon Drover Sentenced for Cattle Stealing—To Jail for Life.

[Special to the Examiner.]

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—On the first Tuesday of next month a special election will be held in the proposed county of Glenn, to the question of creating that new county and also for the election of a full set of county officers. Those for said special election have nominated the new county, and a very lively election is expected, as several very important questions have arisen as to the qualification of voters.

The board of commissioners appointed by the Governor to conduct the election asked the Attorney General for his opinion in the matter and he, to-day, delivered a very lengthy one, and his conclusions, after citing the law, were that no elector of that portion of Colusa county outside of the boundaries of Glenn county cannot move into Glenn county at any time within ninety days prior to the day of election and be a qualified elector of Glenn county. Any person will be entitled to vote, even though not registered at the last general election, provided his name has been properly enrolled on said register some time prior, and provided he has been registered more than ninety days before the day of election. He must have been a bona fide and actual resident of Glenn county, residing within the exterior limits of that county for at least ninety days next preceding the election.

The board of Election Commissioners of Glenn county have the right to fix the voting precincts and the polling within each precinct at such place as they may see fit. The Board of Supervisors of Colusa county should grant a supplement to the great register, containing the names of persons registered since the last general election, up to and including the last day prior to election, and the Clerk of said county of Colusa may vote upon a certificate issued as provided for in Section 1107 of the Political Code.

This opinion is awaited with great interest by the people of Glenn county, as it settles the question involved. It seems that the opinion is favorable to the divisionists. John Boggs, who is leading the anti-divisionists, has boasted that the county will never be divided, and is reported to have said that he will spend $10,000 in the fight.

[Special to the Examiner.]

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Secretary Blaine has received through the Treasury Department a memorial of the Chamber of Commerce of Seattle, Wash., protesting against discrimination in favor of foreigners in the Bering sea fisheries.

The memorial says that the law should be enforced, and punishing persons, but if the treaty stipulations are not, by which the Government is placed powerless, the question of diplomatic relations is such as to prevent the law's quiet enforcement, any discrimination should be in favor of our own people.

The memorial winds up by the position of the Chamber of Commerce as follows: "This Chamber urges that the thorough execution of the law if possible.

"Second—If impossible, its non-enforcement as to all.

"Third—That any and all discrimination on the part of the Government in the enforcement shall be in favor of the citizens of the United States."

VICTIM OF SUPERSTITION.

Remarkable Disappearance of a Chinese Watchman at Goulah.

SAID TO HAVE BROUGHT ILL-LUCK.

His Body Is Supposed to Have Been Thrown Into the River After He Had Been Killed—A Strange Case.

[Special to the Examiner.]

GOULAH (Cal.), April 20.—They killed him because they believed he was a Jonah. Such is the story told by the Chinese in explaining a human being, and strange, say, to think that a member of the kind could be committed in a town of civilized California. The whole population is aware of it has been traced and the body has not been found, but the circumstantial evidence indicates that Ah Sing was done away with for the reason stated. These words were elicited to-day by a correspondent of the Examiner by Engineer Charles T. Tappan, of the Southern Pacific Company's railroad, from a number of Jin Sing's countrymen, who are employed by the company at this place. The latter, who is a native of Canton, and his brother, Ah Sing, came to this country only two weeks ago, had been an employee of the company for about five years. The works of Engineer Tappan represent the general belief in Goulah, whose population is composed almost exclusively of the company's hands and their families. The bands number about 200 whites and 150 Chinese.

"Sing," continued Engineer Tappan, "first observed the appearance of the Chinese on explosives by having, through carelessness, exploded a charge of dynamite while he was at work, and this has become the general belief as that time he was associated with twenty of Engineer Tappan's men, and Monday last he was the only one killed. Ah Sing was the only one who had been heard that he did this to defend himself in case of attack.

"Ah Sing was employed as watchman on the night of the murder, and was last seen by his fellow-countrymen at 10 o'clock. The other men of that and were in bed and the whole place was in darkness when the murder was committed.

"Now let us see the men," the foreman was told.

"Ah Sing was the only one engaged in working on the night of the murder, and he was the only one who had been seen by his fellow-countrymen after
