A NEEDED INVESTIGATION.

Concerning investigation will be the task of the New York Board of Trade, the first of its kind to be undertaken in this city. A committee of experts will be appointed to conduct the investigation, and the report will be made public at the earliest possible date.

The investigation will cover all phases of the shipping business, from the point of view of both the shippers and the carriers. It is hoped that the report will be a great deal of good founded upon.

THE NECESSITY OF IMPROVING THE SEEDS OF KANSAS.

The necessity of improving the seeds of Kansas has been discovered by a recent experiment in the state. The experiment was conducted by a committee of the state legislature, and the results were very satisfactory.

The committee reports that the seeds of Kansas are of inferior quality, and that they are not adapted to the climate of the state. The report recommends the establishment of a seed station, where seeds of better quality can be obtained.

THE DEAR STREET BONDS.

A statement is published today by the Department of Agriculture, which shows that the dear street bonds are being sold at a discount. The bonds were issued for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of public works, but the sale of the bonds has not been successful.

The statement shows that the bonds are being sold at a discount of 20 per cent. The bonds are now offered at $1600 for $2000, which is a discount of 20 per cent. The statement recommends that the bonds be retired and the money used for the construction of other public works.

FEEDING THE BIRDS.

The feeding of the birds is being carried on with great success. The birds have been fed with a mixture of meal and water, and they are now thriving.

A committee of citizens has been appointed to watch over the feeding of the birds, and they report that the birds are now in good condition.

FEEDING THE BIRDS.

The feeding of the birds is being carried on with great success. The birds have been fed with a mixture of meal and water, and they are now thriving.

A committee of citizens has been appointed to watch over the feeding of the birds, and they report that the birds are now in good condition.

WOMEN AS FARM HANDS.

If we have heard comparatively little of the one who was completing the abandonment of farms in New England, it is probably because the farm women have been busy with their work, and have not had time to appear in public.

The women have been busy with their work, and have not had time to appear in public. But they have been working hard, and have made a great deal of progress.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulated, and we hope that they will continue to work hard.

A newspaper correspondent says: "We have been visiting the farm women of New England, and we are happy to say that they are doing a great deal of good work.

The women are working with great energy, and are making good progress. They are not only working, but they are also teaching the children how to work.

The children are learning to work, and are making good progress. They are not only learning to work, but they are also learning the value of hard work.

The farm women are to be congratulate...