CAPT. THOS. MCCREACH IS LAID TO REST

POPULAR VETERAN OF SPANISH WAR BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS

Death relieved the suffering of Thos. J. McCreagh, Spanish War Veteran and for twenty years an appraiser in the customs house, San Francisco, last Saturday at his late home in Lansdale.

The fatal termination of a stroke of paralysis suffered a few weeks ago was not unexpected, but in the face of the dire prediction the patient maintained the cheerful demeanor which has characterized his life of 51 years, more than half of which has been spent in the service of the government.

Captain McCreagh, as he was known, left California at the head of Company D, of the First California Volunteers, and it was this company, under his leadership, that first scaled the walls of Manila. Later, during the Philippine campaign, the company merited the record it achieved.

Two ceremonies were held over the remains. The first service took place at the residence and was conducted by the members of San Rafael Elks Lodge No. 1108, with which Captain McCreagh was affiliated. The funeral cortege then left for the San Francisco Presidio, where a second ceremony was held with the military honors his rank entitled him to. He was laid to rest in the National Cemetery, near many of the comrades who had fought beside him on the field of battle.

Deceased leaves a widow, one brother, John, and a sister, Minnie McCreagh.

SOCIALIST LECTURE

"We Socialists believe the people of this country need Socialism, and are confident that they will want it as soon as they find out what it is," said G. W. Boswell, Socialist Lyceum Lecturer, today.

"What confirms us in our belief," he continued, "is the fact that almost invariably as soon as an intelligent, unprejudiced person understands Socialism, he becomes a Socialist."

When he was asked why there are not more Socialists, he replied that the process of teaching the voters of a great country like America to vote for their own interests is a slow one.

"The long reign of the old parties has not been because the voters understood what they were voting for. Their successes have been due to the ignorance and unconcern of the public.

"All of the money the Socialist Party spends is for the education of the people," said Mr. Boswell. And what is more, the money in the Socialists treasury, comes from the great mass of the nation's toilers. Most of the enormous slush funds of the capitalist parties, come from a corrupt source, and are used to corrupt and bamboozle the American voter.

"The hope of the Socialists lies in education, the hope of the old parties in ignorance and unenlightenment," he concluded, emphatically.

Mr. Boswell will speak Thursday evening May 1st at Masonic Hall. His lecture on "The Socialist Movement" is the last on the Course.

This lecture will be free to the public.
