and Conservative Union organs has met a sudden change, which seems purely incident to the agreement of Congress upon terms of reconstruction. While Congress SECRETARY SEWARD celebrated his 65th birthfaithfully to learn how far the South might be trusted -- how much the loyal North Pienty. should yield to the disloyal South-how THE Richmond Republic has been suspended tives of the People might be and not give offense, and still maintain the dignity of appealing to our passions and exerting every means and exercising every strategy to overwhelm all with their cries about "nigger equality" and "nigger suffrage." And while our Copperhead enemies were busy assailing us in front the special friends of the President, improved the opportunity to attack and harrass us on our flanks. "Why don't the Radicals give us that of the President's?" asked the Doolittles and Raymonds. "If the President will hear us," said the Copperheads, "he will drive those Vandals out of Congress at the politan Circus will perform at Grass Valley on point of the bayonet." Forney was pronounced a "dead duck," and Stevens anathematized as the "Pennsylvania Satan." But while the Copperheads were playing upon their "nigger" harp, and the Conservatives were laboring to show what a patriotic and magnanimous President we have, Congress was industriously at work in endeavoring to agree upon a plan which would secure a two-third vote-in trimming down the rough edges of the extreme Radicals, and giving vigor and life to the dormant propositions of the Conservatives. It was a difficult task to bring two-thirds of both houses of Congress to a harmonious standard. But the statesmen of Congress, like our Generals in the field, have hammered away until victory rewarded their constancy and perseverance. The proposed Amendments to the Constitution were finally agreed upon, and the indefati-

GOOD NEWS FOR TEAMSTERS .- The United States revenue laws, says the Union, have heretofore required of all teamsters the payment of two and a half per cent. on all their receipts. Although the teaming business has been such in this State a considerable portion of the time that teamsters could not pay their expenses, they were still compelled to pay this tax. Recent legislation in Congress will afford relief to this class of citizens, as will be seen by the following letter from Congressman Higby, written at Washington on the 30th of May, and received by a gentleman in this city yesterday. It reads as follows: "You can say to the Teamsters" Association of Sacramento that the Internal Revenue bill just passed by the House entirely exempts freight teams from taxation. I mean by freight teams, those teams conveying merchandise and property of all kinds. This will be good news to them, for their business has been heavily burdened. A New Gold Separator .- A gentleman of San Francisco, says the Scientific Press, has contrived a new method of separating gold from the dust, by what we infer to be a dry process. It is described as follows: It is made up of a series of seives, of the same size but of graduated apertures, which are moved with a semi-circular motion, one above the other, and are so arranged as to save the gold, from the coarsest lump to the finest particle. The extraneous matter is separated and thrown out, and the gold is saved at the bottom of the series of seives. CANDIDATES .- General John Bidwell, now member of Congress from this State, has been put up for Governor in 1867, by the Marysville Appeal.—Red Bluff Independent.

We have put no man in nomination for Governor, and we suppose the editor of the Independent was aware it was misrepresenting facts nominations to the proper Conventions, though perhaps expressing a choice in due time. HOSTILITIES COMMENCED .- The Red Bluff teamsters, says the Bee, have proceeded to extremes by destroying each others' harness, removing the nuts from the wagen wheels, and taking goods belonging to shippers from the conveyances they were assigned to, to others for which they were not intended. The pedestal is to be made of fine white grapite, and the statues of white American marble. The monument will stand upon the crown of the bill where the cemetery is located. Around it, in semi-circular slopes, will lie—the bodies being now buried—the honored dead, each man being separately coffined, and the men of each State together in sections. THE OREGON ELECTION .- The Oregonian has the following on the late election:

Now we boldly assert, and the election returns conclusively demonstrate, that there has been no change in the political sentiments of those who voted for Henderson in June, 1864, and for Lincoln in November of the same year. All such voted the Union ticket in the late elec tion. The Democrats have not gained one hun dred votes from the Union party through the whole State since 1864. Though Henderson bad 2,700 majority in June of that year, Lincoln had only 1,400 five months later. What was the cause of our majority then being reduced one-half in so short a space of time? Surely the Mountaineer will not claim that it was owing to the extreme "Radicalism" of Lincoln. Hendersen received about 8,000 votes in June 1864 and had 2,700 majority; the following November, 9,888 votes were thrown for Lincoln, who notwithstanding the great gain of the Union vote, had a majority only half as large as Hen-derson's. In the late election the Union party gained not less than 1,500 on Lincoln's vote, and over 3,000 on the vote which Henderson received; yet after all, narrowly escaped defeat. Now how are we to account for this reduction of our majorities? It is not to be ascribed to a "change of sentiment" among the people who participated in the election two years ago, but to the rapid increase of the rebel-Democratic vote by overland immigration. "Price's veterans," of whom so much has been said during the late canvass, are by no means an imaginary adopted by the requisite number of States, host Had Oregon not received the guerrilla immigrations of 1864 and 1865, the Union ma-

96.796 troops and 9,896 animals, passing over the entire length of this railroad, a distance of over four hundred miles, were embarked on the Onio river at Parkersburg, upon ninety-two boats, withiu twenty-eight days, and at a period of extremely low water, the river not averaging at the bars over twenty-six to thirty-four inches. Of these troops, over 70,000 were transported by water from Parkersburg to Louisville over four hundred miles; 7,000 to St. Louis, 1,043 miles; and the remainder to Cincinnati, or its immediate vicinity, three hundred miles. large shipment was made without a single acci dent or loss of life, and the cost of the move-ment by water was $328,205, being an average of $3 40 for each soldier.

GENERAL SCOTT .- The New York Herald gives the following sketch of General Scott, as he appeared before his death :

The Lieutenant General was a man, regarded n physique as in history, who will have few competitors in any future period. Nearly seven feet high, broad, powerful, graceful, there was also a splendid dignity in his address, a quietness and candor which bore out none of the partisan jests of which he was often made the theme. When General Grant was presented to him, at the close of the war, the contrast in the wo was very remarkable. Grant did not reach to his elder's shoulder, and his small body was very diminutive. He carried also the nervous-ness generic with him; but Scott was hospitable, reserved, and none that looked upon the two failed to give the burden of their love to the elder commander. The great composed face of General Scott was deeply netted; his large ye well-proportioned feautures were calm, and his gray eyes bore the softened penetrations of an tial deeds should be finished at West Point, the conservatory of the military art in America.

LIKE NASBY .- The President's recent charge against Sumner, Stevens, &c., of instigating his assassination, reminds one of Mr. Nasby's unfortunate blunder at Washington, as related by himself.

Had I sed Saulsbury, it might have ansered, but to give Sumner's name for a drink uv gin waz a pece of lunacy for which I kan't account. I was ignominiously kicked into the street.

MR. BRIGHT'S HEALTH .- The friends of John Bright in this country will read with regret the following editorial paragraph from Wilmer & Smith's (Liverpool) European Times:

"Mr. Bright does not appear to be in good health; he was so hoarse as to be unable to do justice to his own extraordinary powers in the late debate, and he is naturally anxious to live late debate, and he is naturally anxious to live to see the settlement of a question (the reform question) in which he has long felt so deep an interest. The premature death of his friend Mr. Cobden seems to have impressed him with a belief that he is not destined to enjoy a long life, and hence his desire to accept a measure which but a few years ago he would have scouted. It is painful to see a man of Mr. Bright's mark and influence laboring under so gloomy an apprehension of his own future."

ial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botannical element; no fierce excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mild-of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in case of Dyspersia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constitution superinduced by irregular action of the digestive secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languer, find promp and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testim my on this point is most conclusive and from both sever.

The agony of Billious Colic is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented. resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In case of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from Old Age, it exercises an electric influence. In the convalence stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to reinforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the ONLY SAFE STINULANT, being manufactured from sound and innecessus materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachies of the day.

more or less in all the ordinary tonics and store of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETER'S BITTERS.
