

Pages 9 to 16. — The Examiner. — Pages 9 to 16.

SAN FRANCISCO, WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 15, 1896.

HIS MIND OUT OF TUNE.

Adolph Bauer, the Conductor at the Troit, Loses His Reason.

THOUGHT HIMSELF A GREAT PIANIST. Overtook Unhappily the Brain of a Man Who Has Made the Famous Opera Familiar to San Francisco.

It was not a sudden stroke of mental disease that caused the wife of Adolph Bauer to turn away from the conductor of the Troit. The disease was a kind of insanity, growing deep and deadly, and, unless treated by the wife, and often realizing that he had become insane in a strange way, he would have been a patient in a lunatic asylum. It is an exaggeration to say that Adolph Bauer is a genius, in the largest sense of the word, but it is not an exaggeration to say that he is one of the most eminent of the city of the work of the last century. As a conductor of the Troit orchestra and musical director of the opera house, he has long been recognized as one of the most eminent of the city of the work of the last century. As a conductor of the Troit orchestra and musical director of the opera house, he has long been recognized as one of the most eminent of the city of the work of the last century.

ADOLPH BAUER. The leader of the Troit orchestra whose mind is unbalanced by overwork, nervous strain, and the loss of his reason. Taken from a photograph by H. H. H. H.

It may be that he overworked himself, but he was a remarkably energetic man, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

A DENT IN HIS SKULL.

Dennis McCarthy, the Condemned Murderer, is a Violent Epileptic.

THROWN INTO AN EPILEPTIC CONDITION BY CONFUSED PRESSURE UPON HIS HEAD.

EXAMINED BY INSANITY EXPERTS. Dr. Gardner of the West Asylum, and Dr. Hadden of Agnew's Unit the Prisoner at San Quentin.

Dr. Gardner, the Superintendent of the West Asylum, visited San Quentin yesterday and placed his thumb on a small depression in the head of Dennis McCarthy. The man who was condemned to die for the murder of a woman, was found to be a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic.

Dr. Gardner, the Superintendent of the West Asylum, visited San Quentin yesterday and placed his thumb on a small depression in the head of Dennis McCarthy. The man who was condemned to die for the murder of a woman, was found to be a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic.

Dr. Gardner, the Superintendent of the West Asylum, visited San Quentin yesterday and placed his thumb on a small depression in the head of Dennis McCarthy. The man who was condemned to die for the murder of a woman, was found to be a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic.

Dr. Gardner, the Superintendent of the West Asylum, visited San Quentin yesterday and placed his thumb on a small depression in the head of Dennis McCarthy. The man who was condemned to die for the murder of a woman, was found to be a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic. The doctor's attention was attracted by the fact that McCarthy was a violent epileptic.

DENNIS MCCARTHY. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum.

The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum.

The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum.

The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum.

The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum. The man who passed from death to prison through the shadow of the gallows and now is inmate of the County Asylum.

BEGGARD IN OLD AGE.

The Passing of Samuel Tetlow, Whose Prodigality Once Dazzled the Town.

After a Life of Lush Luxury, He Comes to Die Poverty and the Almshouse.

HE OWNED MAYOR SUTRO'S ACRES. Once He Stood at the Foot of the Gallows, Condemned of the Murder of His Wife—Career of a Prodigal.

Sam Tetlow? There are scores of men named Tetlow in this city, but only one of them is the man who once stood at the foot of the gallows, condemned of the murder of his wife. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

Sam Tetlow? There are scores of men named Tetlow in this city, but only one of them is the man who once stood at the foot of the gallows, condemned of the murder of his wife. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

Sam Tetlow? There are scores of men named Tetlow in this city, but only one of them is the man who once stood at the foot of the gallows, condemned of the murder of his wife. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

Sam Tetlow? There are scores of men named Tetlow in this city, but only one of them is the man who once stood at the foot of the gallows, condemned of the murder of his wife. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it. He was a man of great energy, and his entire concentration in his work, but he was not far from it.

DR. GARDNER THROWING DENNIS MCCARTHY INTO AN EPILEPTIC CONDITION AT SAN QUENTIN. (Copyrighted by "Examiner" and "Apostle")