EDITORIAL DASHES.

Forget other people's faults by remembering your own.

LONGFELLOW, the greatest among American poets, is dead.

THE flood along the Mississippi is subsiding, but the distress among the thousands who were ruined by it is very great.

LAST Monday morning the Vulcan Powder Works located in Contra Costa county blew up, killing twelve white men and Chinamen and wounding four others.

ONE of the recently elected members of the French Parliament is named Frossecut. If there is anything in a name this new delegate will make a record.

The dwellings of District Attorney Towle and Oliver Irwin, of San Rafael, were burglarized last Wednesday night, and silver-ware, jewelry and money to a considerable amount stolen.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR has signed the anti-Polygamy bill. This pleases us immensely. For while we are restricted to one wife, we are selfish enough to force all other men to enjoy the same blessing.

SENATOR BEN HILL, of Georgia, is fatally afflicted with cancer of the tongue. Two operations have failed to give him any permanent relief. The days of one of Georgia's most eloquent sons are numbered.

PORTLAND, Oregon, it is said has a population of 28,000 exclusive of Chinamen, who number 2,500. The steamers up coast average about three hundred passengers on the up trip and from forty to sixty on the down trip to San Francisco.

THE Healdsburg Flag asks, will Wilde Oscar come to Healdsburg?

We are authorized to state positively that he will not. Says he can only visit the most important towns in California this trip, and that Petaluma is as far north as he will go.

WHITAKER, the famous ear-slitting colored cadet, has been finally dismissed from West Point. He has cost the Government a large sum of money and had he possessed a white instead of a black skin would long since have been dismissed in disgrace.

THE Equal Rights of last Saturday publishes an independent ticket for city officers of Santa Rosa, with W. O. Howe, the editor, as the candidate for Mayor. In order to give our brother editor one chance for glory and immortality, we move that nominations close.

THE Democratic party in San Francisco is undergoing a reorganization. The proposal to organize District Clubs similar to the Workingmen's old organization is good. With the Democracy of San Francisco harmonious and united we can carry the State next fall with a whoop.

HERR KRUPP, the great German gunmaker has 18,000 men at work manufacturing rifled cannon. His orders are larger than he can supply. This is ominous of the future. There will be no permanent peace in Europe while there is such a demand for weapons of war.

Our fellow citizen, H. T. Fairbanks, is mentioned as a candidate before the Republican Convention for State Treasurer. We would rather see Mr. Fairbanks Treasurer than any other Republican in the state. He is a solid man internally and externally, mentally and physically and from head to foot.

Late dispatches say that the Government at Washington will cease to mourn for the dead President Garfield, April 19th—six months. "All is vanity saith the preacher." About the only sincere mourning by the present administration for the last five months has been confined to those who were turned out of office or expected to be.

WHY, you couldn't find enough mud on the streets of Petaluma to make a decent snow-ball.—[Courier.

Probably not, but you could no doubt scrape up enough there to build an adobe house and stock it with mud cakes.—[Democrat.

Yes; and no doubt there could be enough mud shoveled from the streets of Santa Rosa, during the rainy season, to construct a much larger and better looking Court House than the one that now adorns (?) the City of Roses.

THE store of A. P. Whitney & Co., at Olema Station, is rapidly nearing completion, and very soon the goods will be arranged so as to be readily seen and handled. We expect a goodly trade with the genial Mr. Samuel Martin as chief, and well assorted stock of general merchandise. The store is capacious, well lighted and convenient, and a large store house close by affords ample room for storing heavy goods. A very neat cozy cottage will domicile Mr. Martin and wife.—[San Rafael Tocsin.

OSCAR WILDE, the English sunflower man, arived in San Francisco last Sunday. He lectured in Platt's Hall in that city last night to a large audience. It is needless to add that all the literary and taste cranks in Frisco were there. Barring his eccentricities Mr. Wilde is said to be very much like any other hot-house born and bred young Englishman. Manager Brush would liked to have exhibited this utterly Wilde show at Petaluma, but he could not afford to guarantee more than $5,000 without perquisites, for one lecture, whereas the other side insisted upon $5,100 with a profuse display of genuine sunflowers, etc.

OUR NATIONAL SNUB.

The bearing of the British Government towards the United States in the matter of the imprisonment of Daniel McSweeney (a naturalized citizen of this country), as a suspect, under the Irish Coercion Act, has been discourteous, insulting, and should have been promptly resented by the powers at Washington. Whatever McSweeney's offense may have been, being a citizen of the United States, Mr. Lowell, our Minister, had a right to know the full import and details of the charges against him, and had the right, and it was his duty, to demand for him his release or a speedy trial. Had our positions been reversed, and had we held a British subject in prison under the same circumstances, and neglected to give him his discharge or a speedy trial, and refused when requested to give a full explanation of the reasons for our course, the whole British press would have been clamorous for satisfaction. We don't justify any American citizen who goes to Ireland, or, if there, willfully violates the law of that country, and we would not shield him from its penalty. But when any citizen of the United States is imprisoned in Great Britain or anywhere else, it is the right and bounden duty of our Government to investigate the reasons for such imprisonment, and in any event to demand his release or speedy trial. The present Administration of our Government is stalwart only in name. Its course in the Chili-Peruvian difficulty and with England recently has been timid and in some respects pusillanimous. James G. Blaine exhibited more backbone and courage, more national independence and pride in his foreign policy than is possessed by the whole stalwart faction of the Republican party. And had he continued in power and been permitted to carry out his policy, England would not be virtually administering upon the effects of poor, awfully-whipped and demoralized Peru, nor would Lord Granville have continued to send his sneeringly insulting replies to the politely beseeching notes of Minister Lowell upon a subject vitally important to any nation of pride and standing—the imprisonment of one of its subjects by a foreign power. The United States was never more powerful nor in a better condition to command respect at home and abroad than right now. And a nation under which there is a popular volcano liable to break out at any moment, and which could not whip us when we had but three millions of people, is not in condition to treat with contempt the united protests of fifty millions of brave freemen in behalf of one of their imprisoned countrymen. Nor would they dare do it if the popular sentiment was properly voiced at Washington.

SAILORS' RIGHTS.

The almost constant reports of cruelty practiced upon sailors at sea and their treatment on shore, especially at San Francisco, is a disgrace to the christianity of the age. With many of these sailors life is a perpetual hell whether on land or sea. They are beaten and treated like dogs on shipboard and robbed and persecuted while on shore. The fact that some of the best and most successful commanders of ships in the world manage their crews by kind treatment shows that such extreme cruelty and abuse as is frequently practiced by the officers, is not necessary. A few long terms in the State Prison would learn these poop deck tyrants a little humanity. San Francisco is cursed by a lot of sailor boarding house keepers and runners who are as soulless as the most barbarous Fiji Islanders. The poor sailor has no peace and is shown no mercy by these harpies, from the time he arrives in that port until his departure. If he cannot be used and robbed in a sober state he is made drunken and not unfrequently shipped or still worse shanghaied while in that condition. We have always supposed that it was the duty of the Shipping Commissioner to protect seamen as well as shipmasters in their rights, and if he did his duty faithfully we don't see how so many complaints could be made as are from time to time reported in the papers. It is a shame upon the good law abiding citizens of San Francisco, and no credit to the United States that sailors, so important to our mercantile marine and our national reputation upon the sea, should be so monstrously imposed upon and maltreated. It is said that there is no port in the world were sailors are so badly treated or shipmasters put to more unnecessary annoyance and expense than in San Francisco. Is not the moral and best sentiment of our chief city backed by the law strong enough to reform these abuses!

THE CHINESE BILL.

The bill has passed; and now let us admit that we owe its enactment to the Democratic party. Without Democratic votes it would not have passed. Without the support of Democratic Senators, the treaty would not have been ratified. Without Democratic aid in the Senate and in the House of Representatives this curse of Chinese immigration, this barbarian invasion, would never have been arrested, except through violence, disorder, confusion, and war here in our port of San Francisco. In our streets would have been enacted scenes that would have shamed our civilization. That we have been spared witnessing these things is due, not to the party of moral ideas and advanced political intelligence, not to the Republicans, but to the Democratic party; not to Republican statesmen, but to Democratic politicians. There is no one man more deserving of our gratitude for the accomplishment of this result than Senator Farley. He had the power to defeat the measure. Had he intimated such a wish to his party friends in the Senate, they would not have ratified the treaty. Had he failed in his loyal support of the Miller bill, it would have been beaten in the Senate; and it is much to his credit when on such a measure he can bring to its support all the Democratic Senators save one. Senators Miller and Jones made grand speeches. They worked with effective power and earnest diligence. Congressman Page deserves much praise. His leadership of the bill through the House is entirely creditable to him.

Will the Republican papers which have so steadily ignored our Democratic Senator and Representative in Congress, and just as steadily lauded Miller and Page and given them all the credit for congressional action on the Chinese bill, copy the above clip from the Argonaut, written by Frank Pixley, a leading Republican of this State, and who was present during the passage of the anti-Chinese bill through the Senate?

NEWS FROM OUR NEIGHBORS.

SANTA ROSA.

Democrat: "Patriotic Sons of America" is the name of a secret political society which it is said has an organization in this community.

A novel experiment is being tried by I. DeTurk, who is setting out 2,000 olive cuttings on the Yulupa farm in Bennett valley.

A bill is reported to have passed the Lower House of Congress reimbursing the Santa Rosa Savings Bank $1,002 for a lost draft on the San Francisco Sub-Treasurer.

County Superintendent Smyth furnishes the following items of interest: Total amount paid teachers last fiscal year, $72,540 90. The highest salary paid, $150 per month, to the Principal of Petaluma High School. The lowest salary paid, $40 per month, to the teacher in Ocean District. Average salary paid, $62. Number of teachers employed in the county, 149; number of male teachers, 41; number of female teachers, 108. Average time employed, 7 8-10 months. The current school year commenced July 1, '81, and will close June 30th ensuing.

Republican: Out of $307,000 of tax delinquent there are about $3,000 remaining unpaid.

The Maggie, a small vessel carrying about fifty cords of wood, is reported lost at Fish Rock, near the mouth of the Gualala. She was well known on the coast.

A petition has been circulated in Mendocino county asking the Governor to commute the sentence of H. E. Brown (now confined in our jail under sentence of death), to imprisonment for life. The petition, which has been circulated by Brown's nephew, received but very few signatures.

Mr. Robert Crane, one of the Board of Supervisors, who resides seven miles southwardly from this city, says that, in looking over the length and breadth of this valley, (which is no inconsiderable scope,) he never saw as much growing grain; nor did he ever see it look as well this time of year.

S. A. Randall has 500 angora goats on a ranch about three miles south of Sebastopol. He is, probably, the largest breeder of these animals in the county. He will begin shearing as soon as the weather permits. His flock is, in his opinion, the best in the State, being nearly pure. Each animal yields from 3 to 5 pounds of mohair, which sells at from 30 to 75 cents per pound.

C. C. Farmer, Superintendent of the Santa Rosa Woolen Mills, says that the branding of sheep with common tar, is destructive to that portion of the wool upon which the brand is put and that it is of no use whatever. In working the staple it has to be picked out, and if by chance any remains in it, cannot be extricated, or worked out, by any process known. This is a good hint to our sheep men, and hereafter, of course, they will endeavor to find a substitute that will take the place of tar for branding sheep.

HEALDSBURG.

Flag: Sheep are doing well in the mountains around Cloverdale. Same here.

B. F. Frost, aged 46 years, was accidentally killed by a pistol shot, March 12th, near Little Lake.

Bishop, just in from the mountains Tuesday, says the loss of lambs from the cold weather will range from 40 to 60 per cent., but that all things considered, the mountaineers do not complain.

John D. Grant and John Bean and others in this vicinity, are planting additional acreage to hops. Hops thrive here and for the past two years have made small fortunes for those engaged in the business of raising them.

John Moffet has built on his mountain ranch northwest of this city, between eight and nine miles of picket fence, consuming 100,000 pickets. In a few places the ground, where the fence was to be built, was so steep that trails had to be made, and material packed on mules.

Enterprise: Several brick buildings are soon to be erected in Healdsburg.

On Tuesday 1,000 dozen eggs where shipped below by Healdsburg merchants.

On Sunday last J. P. Emerson, of Healdsburg, had his left leg amputated between the knee and ankle. The operation was performed in San Francisco by McLean and assistant, four medical students also being present.

On Wednesday of last week there was much thunder and lightning northwest of Healdsburg. George Seawell, who lives near Skaggs Springs, says lightning struck a fir tree, stripping off the bark and tearing up the ground at the base of the tree. Will Dudley, Mr. Seawell's partner, was partially stunned by the force of the shock.

Drunken Indians are an intolerable nuisance about Healdsburg. Almost every night they congregate in Hewett's grove and create a perfect pandemonium by their yells and carousings. Women are justly afraid to remain alone in their houses after nightfall, and the male residents of the vicinity are well nigh desperate to put a quietus on the outrage.
