

CRUZADOS IS THE FASTEST HORSE IN THE WORLD

EXCERPT FROM AN INTERVIEW WITH TRAINER CAMERON

WILKING DOGS MAKE BIDS FOR HONORS

Champion Coursers Are Being Dethroned by Fast Puppies That Are Now in the Game

Crowds Increasing at Union Park and Leashmen's Sport Takes on Prosperous Look

The sport of the leash is enjoying a boom at present that is felt on all sides. Never before in the history of the game has coursing taken on such a prosperous look. The increased attendance at the weekly meets has reached a proportion that is gratifying to the coursing association and dog owners alike. In return for their patronage the followers of the sport are treated to a class of coursing that is admittedly superior to that of any past year. The condition of the hares at this particular season is a large factor in the betterment of the fast and interesting trials that it has excited. According to veteran leashmen, it is not of record that the hares have held their strength and speed so far into the winter season. While many of the old hounds that have been campaigning through several seasons are still in the running and holding their own, new performers are coming in and are making reputations for themselves. Hardly a week passes without some well-bred youngster does not figure. The more than occasional sensational work of the newcomers forces the wise veterans to do some figuring. Albert Curtis has a number of promising young hounds coming on, which he figures will equal if not exceed his present kennel of stake-winners. Of the puppies that are likely candidates for future events a litter by Tree, out of Echo, and one by Chartist, out of Maud S, give the most promise. Already Mr. Curtis has given his young coursers trials in principal events. He has experienced big ones, and the results have been more than satisfactory to him. J. Horn has a promising litter by Rocker, out of Bona. The youngsters are pronounced a fine looking lot, and considering their breeding, it is predicted that they will develop into early stake-winners is quite natural. Some of the crack performers of the Pasha Kennel will be sold at auction at Union Park on December 15. The kennel for some time past has been overcrowded and the breeding program is being decided upon. Twelve coursers, all of them with records familiar to the followers of the sport, will be disposed of. The list includes Lawrence, Snapsheet, Risky Attempt, Random Aim, Royal Alliance, Rude Awakening, Belle Clair, Belle Rocket, Eastern Arbor, Gold Hunter (imp.), formerly Gold Nugget, by Fabulous Fortune-Gatherer, and Real Lassie (imp.), by Cooney-Win-Here. There are also a number of these greyhounds will distribute some good blood lines among the local kennels. Royal, a celebrated stud dog of Montana, has been sent to this city. The hound has been placed in charge of A. J. Van White. Dr. F. P. Clark of Stockton has purchased Royal Anne from the Pasha Kennel and will run her in the future in the Stockton City. At the Stockton Park the slips are shorter than on the local field, and with the advantage of Royal Anne should show the way to the hares to all her new opponents. Union Park presents a strong card for to-morrow. In addition to the open stake finals a champion event will be run. The event is made up of the pick of local coursers and will be a real test of the hares who holds the record of stake-winning litches in America.

OARSMEN FIND PLEASURE IN THEIR WINTER DANCES

Flanning to Rebuild Boathouses Removed Owing to the Demolition of Long Bridge.

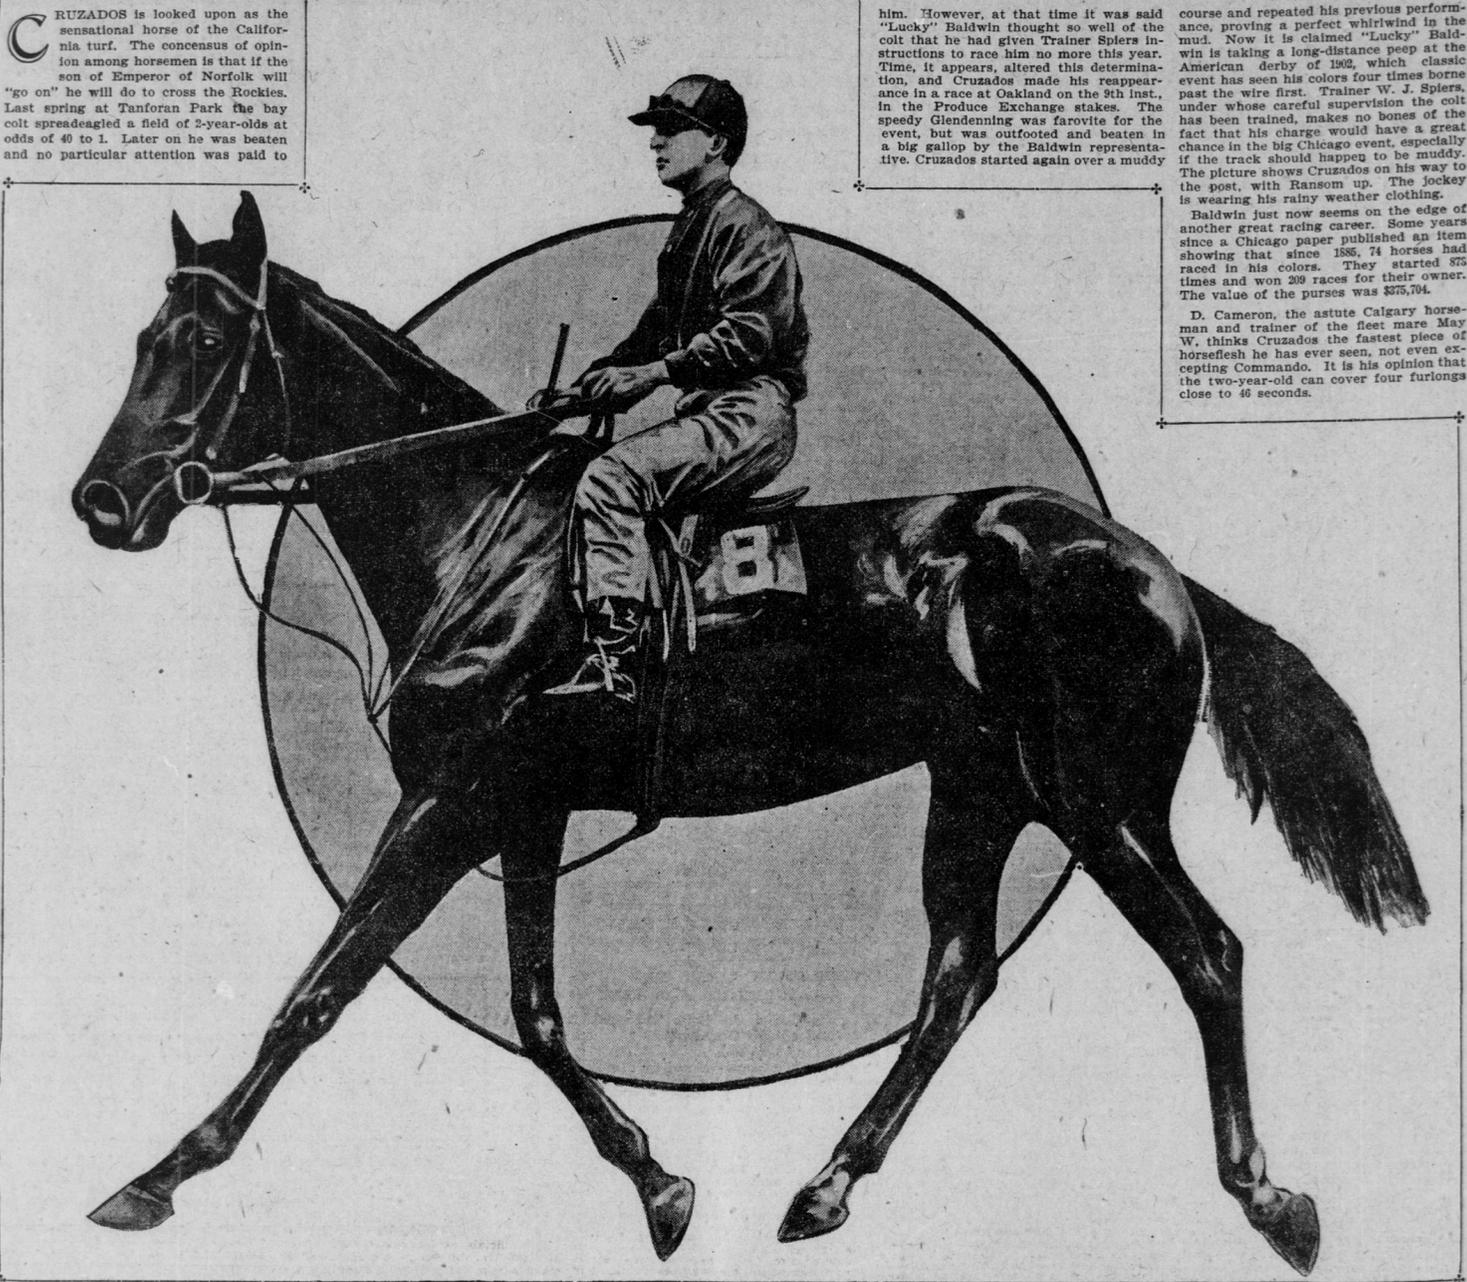

The annual entertainment of the Ariel Rowing Club last Saturday night assumed the form of a masquerade ball given in Saratoga Hall. Though the rain kept some visitors away, the dance was successful. The club has enough money on hand to begin work on the new quarters so soon as the site has been definitely settled. The Pioneers, when their old house on the wharf was razed, had a rough shed on Kentucky street in which their boats and rowing equipment are stored. By carrying the boats across the street to the new quarters, the club has a considerable distance from the water when the seawall is built. The Ariel contented themselves with moving their boats and oars in a warehouse. The election of a new board of officers to serve for the coming year will take place at the meeting of the Ariel Rowing Club on Monday evening. The nominating committee of the Dolphin Rowing Club has selected the following as the regular ticket for the coming half year: For president, Joseph S. Davis; vice president, entertainer, Frank Freudenberger; secretary, Will H. Bush; treasurer, Frank C. Stahl; financial secretary, Fred Freudenberger; captain, T. R. Dixon; lieutenant-captain, Leo Wienand; members of the executive committee, T. J. Kennedy, Ed. Belber, Fred Freudenberger, Curry, Henry Pernau and V. Kehrlin; delegates to the Pacific Association—A. P. Rothoff, A. J. Morfitt, Harold Ward Jr. and John Matthews.

Cricketers Are Entertained.

A meeting of the California Cricket Association will be held on Monday evening, December 3, to receive the report of the committee appointed to prepare the batting and bowling averages for the past season, and to discuss the question of a ground for next season will also be discussed. The members of the Alameda Cricket Club were entertained at dinner last Tuesday by Edward Brown, president of the club. The report of Henry Ward, secretary of the club, showed that during the past season the club had won a percentage of 60. This brings the Alameda Club out a little ahead of the Santa Cruz country club, which has a percentage of 58. The percentage of the Pacific Cricket Club is 55, and that of the Sacramento Club is 55. President Brown believed that a long distance of an iron club was not so difficult to control on approach as a whole having a gutter placed on a golf course for some time. It is probable both Captain Orestes Pierce and Captain L. O. Kellogg will be in favor of making the teams as large as they can be made. The members who are selected to represent their club feel their efforts may turn the tide of the game. Golfers in Great Britain are beginning to discuss the new golf ball, which was introduced by the Royal and Golfing United States amateur championships, both for men and women. But the ball itself does not appear to have reached Great Britain, though doubtless it will do so soon. It has a core of gutta-percha, around which are wrapped strings of rubber, the whole being covered by a percha covering with the usual nicks and markings. It is said that drives from the new ball are lengthened thirty to forty yards by using the new ball, so that it is particularly helpful to golfers who drive a straight but not a long ball. It is also said to travel a long distance off an iron club. The disadvantage of the new ball is that it is difficult to control on approach, and the whole having a gutter does not seem to have any appreciable advantage over the gutta-percha ball of the ordinary type. Against the wind it is believed to be much more easily deflected. The Baltusrol Golf Club made an attempt to prohibit its use in an open tournament for women, but this was, of course, entirely erroneous, as the rules of golf do not prescribe the size, weight or material of the ball, and players are free to use any thing they please. Nor can it be said that it is taking an unfair advantage of an opponent to use the new ball, as it can be bought by any one in the open market. The attempt to prohibit the use of the ball in the United States men's amateur championship contest failed. Walter J. Travis using it and making an excellent score. The strongest argument against its use is that it is much more expensive than the ordinary solid ball.

Bernard Ward Remanded.

The writ of habeas corpus for the release of Bernard Ward, ex-receiver of the Marine Investment Company, who was held to answer on a charge of felony embezzlement, was denied by Judge Cook yesterday. The prisoner was remanded into the custody of the Sheriff.

GOLFERS PLAY IN THE RAIN

Thanksgiving Day Contests Are Held Under Conditions Which Would Stop Any but Devotees

Despite the unfavorable weather on Thanksgiving day there were tournaments on all the local courses. On the Presidio links there was a 36-hole handicap tournament for three prizes; at Oakland the formal opening of the winter season was made with the first competition for the Goodall cup, and at Sausalito the golfers held a contest on the Port Baker links for the Foster cup and a special prize. On the San Francisco Golf Club course the contest for the Council's cup for men is still in progress. The first round will probably be completed to-day and possibly one of the matches in the second round may be played. The next event of interest to local golfers will be the first home-and-home match between teams representing the San Francisco and Oakland Golf Clubs. It has been the custom to have teams of eight men in these matches, but the number which will constitute the teams in the matches this season has not yet been decided. It seems that a team of not more than six men would suit the Oakland Club best, while the Presidio Golfers will be willing to put a team of twelve or more men into the field. There are five first-class golfers at Oakland—Ed. Belber, Fred Freudenberger, Curry, Henry Pernau and V. Kehrlin; delegates to the Pacific Association—A. P. Rothoff, A. J. Morfitt, Harold Ward Jr. and John Matthews.

Automobilists Are Energetic

Organizing Country Runs and Endeavoring to Gain the Use of Park Roads and Drives

The meeting of the Automobile Club of California at the Cliff House on Tuesday evening was one of the most enthusiastic that has been held by the chauffeurs. President F. A. Hyde referred to his recent trip through the Eastern States, during which he specially inquired into the regulations governing the admission of self-propelled vehicles into the public parks of New York, Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities. A hope was expressed that the automobilists of San Francisco will be long permitted to use the public pleasure grounds freely. R. R. l'Hommedieu, who has performed the duties of secretary of the Automobile Club for several months past, resigned his office for reasons which were not stated at the meeting, receiving a cordial vote of thanks for his services. The question of a button and cap badge for the chauffeurs came up, designs prepared by a local jeweler being submitted by S. D. Rogers, former president of the Automobile Club. A well-known member of the club expressed a strong preference for a design characteristic of the State of California, and, though nothing definite was done, it is likely that a grizzly bear's head enclosed in a circle which are the letters A. C. C. will be the design adopted. It was decided that the directors be empowered to make arrangements with J. M. Wilkins of the Cliff House to set apart a large room on the fourth floor for the use of the automobilists, where they may meet. On Sundays a luncheon will be held on the night of full moon at Cliff House. At the outing on Tuesday night there were about fifteen automobiles. Several of them were capable of seating four persons, there were between forty and fifty chauffeurs and guests at Cliff House. On the return trip an electric trolley driven by S. D. Rogers ran short of power and was towed into the city by a derrick operated by W. S. Arnold. Charles L. Fair's Panhard Levasor machine was on Van Ness avenue, but did not make the run to Cliff House. On the return trip the machine driven by one of the operators of the Mobile Company was coming rapidly down Golden Gate avenue, parts of the pavement of which were wet. The wheels skidded, hurling the machine violently against the curbstone and throwing the occupants out. The rig was wrecked, but the occupants escaped without injury. A smooth wet pavement is dangerous to a machine as rapidly as a rapid road. An automobilist should go over such a surface at a speed higher than eight to ten miles per hour. Tuesday night's run was under the new regulations recently issued by the committee on runs. Robert Lennie being captain and E. H. Gaylord, formerly secretary and winner of one of the contests for the Council's cup. Neither of these has been seen on a golf course for some time. It is probable both Captain Orestes Pierce and Captain L. O. Kellogg will be in favor of making the teams as large as they can be made. The members who are selected to represent their club feel their efforts may turn the tide of the game. Tennis Courts Are in Demand

Players Invade the Park and the California Club Grounds Seeking a Spell at the Nets

Although the weather of the past fortnight has not been the best for tennis, the players have been out in great numbers and some good matches have been played. The crack players of a few years ago are gradually coming back to the game and in another month such men as Will Taylor and Tom Driscoll will be trying conclusions with the champions of to-day. A match between either Taylor or Driscoll and Smith would be interesting and would show where the former stand in the fourth class, "thirty," but it is doubtful if he could stand up before the hard hitting game of to-day. Taylor, although more brilliant than Driscoll, is hardly as effective. "Bob" Ayre is one of the old timers who has again taken up the game. He showed considerable skill in a match last Sunday on the local courts. Gus Taylor was the first of the former cracks to return to the game, although his game consists mostly in getting the balls back. He can hold any of the second class men down. "Dick" Erskine showed last Sunday he is a hard man to beat when given a liberal handicap. Smith allowed Kuehn, the best man in the fourth class, "thirty," and won, 6-2, 6-2. Erskine, who ranks below Kuehn, received the same odds and beat Smith 6-0 in the first set. He also had a good lead in the second set, being within a point of winning twice, and with a little luck would probably have won. Erskine seems to be the only man in the lower classes who knows the proper game to play with a handicap. His success is entirely due to the fact that he takes chances. His swift service and hard drives give the scratch men considerable annoyance. Most of the men play a careful game and as the higher class men are more skillful the handicap bothers them but little. The intercollegiate tennis looks to be all in favor of the University of California this year. Berkeley has had a try-out already, and as a result the teams representing that college will be picked from the following men: Fred Brown, Drummond McGavin, Harold Braly, Reuben Hunt and Troy Hendrick. Stanford will rely upon Harry Wiehe for victory this year. S. H. Adams, his partner in doubles, has left college and will not play. His place will probably be taken by Duval Moore, who is a promising player. With Wiehe for a partner, he should do well in doubles. The park players are improving rapidly and will undoubtedly send several good men into the championship tournaments next year. There will be a tournament on the park courts to-morrow. It will probably be a class singles. Olympic Handball Tournament. The various winners up to the present time in the Olympic Club handball tournament will meet to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock in a series of games. The players are drawn as follows: First class—J. J. Gleason vs. H. V. Russ; George James vs. William Cartwright; T. J. Curley, a bye. Second class—Louis Levy vs. George James; John Tait vs. Max Green and F. Stratford vs. Tom Powers. Third class—M. Rosenfeld vs. T. I. Fitzpatrick; Jack Cunningham vs. C. K. Melrose; F. Krone, a bye. Hagerty Charges Fraud. Robert D. Hagerty, a member of the stationary firm of Hagerty & Forsyth, is suing his partner, A. C. Forsyth, for $150 damages and a dissolution of partnership. He alleges that Forsyth, who keeps the books for the firm, has by false entries and changes in accounts defrauded him of $150 and has refused to allow him to see the books or give an accounting. He asks the court for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the affairs of the firm. Valuable Estates Appraised. The reports of the appraisers appointed to determine the value of the estates of Agnes Tillman and Henry Levy were passed by the committee and the Tillman estate consists of real estate in this city and Alameda and Santa Cruz counties worth $38,975 and that Levy died possessed of stock, notes and real estate worth $41,419.25.

May Not Shoot by Moonlight

Game Wardens Are Watching in the Vicinity of Alvarado for Violators of the State Law

The game wardens are determined to put a stop to the shooting of ducks on the Alvarado marshes after sunset and before sunrise. Some days since a doctor and two of his guests were arrested for participating in the unlawful sport. The fine for persons convicted of violating this section of the game law is $25. As the game wardens receive half of this for each conviction their interest is considerably sharpened. The sportsmen, who would not think of taking advantage of the moonlight shooting, naturally object to men who do take this advantage and return with big strings of birds. It means a slaughter of ducks, as under good conditions a great many can be bagged. The flash of the shotguns has the tendency to scare away a lot of birds and in the long run makes bad shooting. The sport last Sunday was of uneven quality, men shooting from adjoining preserves obtaining widely different results. On Thursday and Friday thousands of birds were seen, but on Sunday they had disappeared as if by magic. Otto Feudner enjoyed another record shoot near Denverport last Sunday. This time he secured thirty "cans," twelve mallard and eight spring. The ducks were passed by the half. His total number of birds were secured in twenty minutes. Down at the Spooney Gun Club preserve, near Mount Eden, three members secured sixty birds. Larzale, Mr. Guyatt and William Whitehead were the members out. When the sportsmen were coming home Sunday afternoon the birds were arriving in numbers. Mr. Miller of Alvarado had one of the best shoots of the day, killing thirty-five birds. On the Field and Tule Club preserve near Suisun, eight members had a successful day on Sunday. Two hundred ducks in all were secured. The members in attendance were J. B. Coleman, H. B. Hosier, M. Shields, W. Say, J. H. Miller, F. F. Fritch, Louis Titus, Colonel D. E. Miles and A. Warnecke. The gunmen are not sure what sport is in store for them to-morrow. They have ceased predicting and now go out ready to accept conditions as they find them. Reliance Club Promises Good Boxing Tournament. Main Event Will Be a Match Between Frank McConnell and Jack Capellis. OAKLAND, Nov. 29.—The Reliance Athletic Club boxing exhibition, to be given in the club gymnasium next Tuesday, promises good sport for admirers of the fist game. There will be three contests, all of which should be worth watching. The main event will be a fifteen-round bout between Frank McConnell and Jack Capellis. McConnell is training at the Keystone Athletic Club while Capellis is getting into shape at the Reliance Club. They will fight at 122 pounds. The other contests will be between Tommy Giffen and Spider Welch and Bobby Johnson and Dick Cullen. The first event will be ten rounds, second four.

Hunt Club Men in the Field

The Season Opens Auspiciously and High-Class Sport Seems Assured by San Mateo Hounds

The season of the San Mateo County Hunt has started auspiciously, with promise of a most successful season. There will be meets of the hounds every Wednesday and Saturday. J. J. Moore, acting master of the Hunt, has issued the following list of fixtures covering the remaining meets of this year: Saturday, November 30, 2 p. m.—Homestead Common, San Mateo. Saturday, December 4, 2 p. m.—Poor Farm Gate, San Bruno. Saturday, December 7, 10 a. m.—Moormeads, Palo Alto. Luncheon, by invitation of J. J. Moore, at 1 p. m. Wednesday, December 11, 2:30 p. m.—Laurel Creek, Beresford. Saturday, December 14, 2 p. m.—Uncle Tom's Cabin, San Jose road. Wednesday, December 18, 2 p. m.—Millbrae (The Dairy). Saturday, December 21, 2:30 p. m.—Southern Pacific station, San Carlos. Wednesday, December 25, 2 p. m.—Sixteen Mile House, San Jose road. Saturday, December 28, 2 p. m.—Howard Woods, Crystal Springs road. The fields are exceptionally well mounted and much clever horsemanship is shown. The advice of the best riding masters has apparently been obtained. Joseph Dyer, who secured the Lonsdale in England, has been in demand as an instructor. The first note of preparation for the polo season was sounded on Thursday when the arrival at Burlingame from England of Lawrence McCree was announced. Wheeler and F. J. Mackey, who were here last season, are coming. Menzies will be here and is expected to bring his brother, also a noted English player. Out Professionals From College Athletics. Representatives of the Intercollegiate Conference Make an Important Ruling in Chicago. CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—A long step toward the elimination of professionalism from college athletics was taken to-day by the faculty representatives of the Intercollegiate College Conference, who held an all-day session here. The following rule was passed: "No student is eligible to compete in a college team who plays in so-called amateur, semi-professional or professional baseball. If a student is charged with, or where prizes, premiums or purses are offered." Whether the rule is retroactive was not settled by the committee, and after the meeting it was announced that the question of the matter had not been thought of as far as possible to discourage college athletes from taking part in professional baseball. The bicycle event was dropped from all the programs of college athletic meets in the future. A student who is eligible for four years in college athletics, beyond which a student is not eligible to contest, means four years in the aggregate, and not four years on any one team. Consider Boxing Licenses. The Supervisors' Police Committee yesterday considered the proposed ordinance increasing the license tax on professional boxing clubs from $1200 to $5000 per annum. Reed favored the higher license, but Staffor, though he was high enough, "Tobin," who is in honor's place, favors the $5000 license, but unless Staffor changes his mind no recommendation will be made. The committee yesterday reported against the petition of Samuel C. Mott for William Keller for permission to give a series of bull fighting exhibitions heretofore given at Merced and at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

AUSTRALIAN BOXER WILL SOON FIGHT

Tim Heagerty Is Training for His Bout With Redoubtable "Saginaw Kid" at Oakland

This Meeting Should Provide One of the Best Encounters Ever Seen on the Coast

Table with 2 columns: Measurements of the Men. Lavigne: 5 feet 9 1/2 inches, Height, 5 feet 9 1/2 inches, Weight, 120 pounds, Chest, 38 inches, Biceps, 14 1/2 inches, Neck, 14 1/2 inches, Forearm, 14 1/2 inches, Wrist, 3 1/2 inches, Waist, 32 inches, Hip, 38 inches, Calc., 13 1/2 inches. Heagerty: 5 feet 9 1/2 inches, Height, 5 feet 9 1/2 inches, Weight, 120 pounds, Chest, 38 inches, Biceps, 14 1/2 inches, Neck, 14 1/2 inches, Forearm, 14 1/2 inches, Wrist, 3 1/2 inches, Waist, 32 inches, Hip, 38 inches, Calc., 13 1/2 inches.

Kid Lavigne, ex-lightweight champion boxer of the world, and Tim Heagerty, who comes from Australia with an exceptionally good record, will meet in a fifteen-round battle before the Acme Club, Oakland, on the night of December 12. Both boxers are training faithfully for the contest. Lavigne is rounding into condition at his old training quarters, Blanken's Six-mile House, while Heagerty is doing his preparatory work near Colma. After his long lay-off from the fighting game Lavigne is showing good form. He seems to be in the best of health, and he has lost his old-time speed, so many think, he does not show it in his rigorous every-day training, but in an important fighting trim already. For the last month he has been putting in five or six hours of hard training daily, and his physique is beginning to show the good effects of the flesh-stripping work. The boxers will weigh in at Harry Corbett's at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the first of the fight. Both have agreed to weigh 120 pounds. Lavigne is already to weigh. He manages to shift his weight daily, few days above or below the limit. This treatment he says will strengthen him more than taking off four or five pounds and then building up gradually as most fighters do. Heagerty is being put through his route to physical perfection by Australian Billy Smith. He is in fine shape, those who have seen Heagerty box say he is a clever, shifty fellow, with a good, stiff punch in either hand. In an impromptu bout with Gus Ruhlman which took place one day at the Six-mile House while the latter was training for Jeffries Heagerty proved himself to be a star lightweight. He took punch for punch with the big Akron man and literally had it all over Gus. He is a fighter from the ground up. Lavigne rested up in his training in Thanksgiving day, but yesterday he made up for lost time by doing an extra hard day's work. He took a ten-mile run in the morning and in the afternoon punched the bag for fully an hour, with only a brief rest.

The match between the two lightweights is attracting attention locally and in the East. Lavigne is possibly the best lightweight that ever stepped into the ring when he is right. His admirers are anxious to see whether his long rest and temperate habits have brought back his old-time speed. In Heagerty Lavigne will find a suitable opponent of this kind of a test. Lavigne will probably be the favorite in the betting. Over at Reliance Athletic Club on Tuesday evening there should be some great fights between hard-hitting youngsters. Jack Capellis will meet Frank McConnell, Spidie Wheeler and two representatives of the University of Pennsylvania. Two officers of the army and two of the navy will be present. The party to their boxes on the army and navy side of the field. During the first half the army will be on the navy side and in the second half the navy will be on the army side. Upon the entrance to the grounds the bands will play "Hail to the Chief," and when the President has taken the oath of office the two academies will give cheers respectively. Upon completion of the program the President will be escorted to his box. The line-up is as follows: West Point. Position. Annapolis. Doe.....L. T.....Whiting Riley.....L.
