No Quarantine Contemplated and No Cause for Alarm Is Found Health Authorities Issue Statement That Allays Public Anxiety

TO the People of San Francisco: Rumors of an alarming nature having reached the board of health in regard to bubonic plague, the president of the board, by its authority, hereby declares that there exists at present in San Francisco nothing that need cause any alarm, much less the quarantining of the city...

So far there have been detected but 25 verified cases of the disease since the 27th day of May last.

Every precaution is being taken by the federal authorities, in co-operation with the state and city boards of health, to stamp out such of the disease as is here.

It is well to bear in mind that the bubonic plague seldom becomes epidemic except in the tropics.

W. OPHULS,

President Board of Health, San Francisco.

RUPERT BLUE,

President Assistant Surgeon United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service.

EDWARD R. TAYLOR,

Mayor of San Francisco.

MARTIN REGENSBURGER,

President State Board of Health.

Federal, state and municipal health officers joined yesterday in an official statement addressed to the public announcing emphatically that no quarantine in this city was contemplated by the authorities, and declaring that "there exists at present in San Francisco nothing that need cause alarm, much less the quarantining of the city."

It was further announced that the infection had been entirely wiped out at the city and county hospital, and that the convalescents there should be at once permitted to return to their homes.

"There has been a great deal of unwarranted talk and unjustified spread of idle but alarming rumors," said Dr. Blue yesterday, "and the health board is being flooded with messages of inquiry about this neighborhood and that, and interrogations about impending quarantines. There is no need of mystery about this matter. There have been 25 cases of bubonic plague reported to the health board since the first case appeared last May. Most of the 25 have come in since last month. There have been 13 deaths. The sporadic character of the malady, and the fact that it is rarely epidemic save in the tropics, are facts which should allay alarm. The state and municipal officials are doing everything in their power to stamp out the disease, and the extermination of the hordes of rats which now infest the city will result in the complete eradication of the disease."

FIVE CASES UNDER OBSERVATION

Five cases were reported yesterday which displayed plague symptoms. None was declared to be a verified case, but all were placed under observation at the city institution in Twenty-sixth street.

Chang Mon We, president of the Chinese Six Companies, was found dead yesterday at 743 Sacramento street in Chinatown. Death was due to plague.

A Greek laborer, who was taken ill in a house in Green street near the water front, also died yesterday.

The statement issued by the officials in charge of the sanitation of San Francisco will be sent to the United States consuls located in Central and South America, and to the principal seaports of Europe and the Orient. This will be done, it was explained, to correct the impression created by published articles emanating from would-be rival Pacific coast cities seeking to make capital at San Francisco's expense by spreading false accounts of an alleged epidemic.

Mayor Taylor, Supervisor Henry Pa-

yt. Dr. Hubert Blue, U. S. A. and Dr. Foster of the state board of health met yesterday evening with the health board to discuss the situation. It was agreed that the city and county hospital was free of all traces of the infection, and the quarantine was lifted. There is now no quarantine anywhere in San Francisco.

Dr. Herbert Gunn, chief health officer, made many recommendations seeking to exterminate the rats, which are believed to be responsible for the disease, and the board gave him additional men and equipment for the purpose. The matter of the fumigation of the streets was left to Dr. Gunn's discretion. Additional sanitary inspector and assistants were granted Gunn in his efforts to keep the streets free from garbage and enforce the city's sanitary laws.

REFUGEE COTTAGES UNCLEAN

Much discussion arose when M. J. Casey, president of the board of public works and member of the health board, recommended that no more refugee cottages should be moved from the camps and parks until the last trace of the bubonic plague had been wiped out. He contended that many of the shacks were unclean and that to remove them at this time would be to jeopardize the actions of the city to which they were taken. Casey also argued that speculators were securing the shacks and placing them in lots about town in spite of the protests of owners of adjoining properties, and causing much complaint. D. Broderick and Thomas Walsh of the relief corporation begged the board to permit the shacks to be removed, and claimed that Casey had been misinformed regarding the abuses of the speculators and the unsanitary condition of the cottages. The matter was taken under advisement.

Another meeting of the health board with Dr. Blue will be held today.

PRETTY BRIDE TO BE EN ROUTE TO HONOLULU

Carries Rose to Identify Herself on the Oakland Pier

With a rose in one hand and in the other an umbrella, pretty little 18 year old Emma Ulrich, a provincial German bride to be, who is traveling to Honolulu to meet her fiancé, awaited Manager Albert Sternberg of the Baltimore hotel on the Oakland pier Thursday night.

A rose in one hand and an umbrella in the other were the signs by which she was to have been recognized by Sternberg, had not the postal officials caused complications in the arrangement by the late delivery of the letter announcing the time of her arrival.

Erich Kahl of Bremen left Germany many months ago, after having plighted his troth with Emma Ulrich, to take up the duties of musical director. Passing through San Francisco, he stopped at the Baltimore, where he made arrangements for his fiancée to write. It was arranged that Sternberg should meet her and take her to the Baltimore.

On Thursday Sternberg received a postal from Miss Ulrich, saying that she had been notified of the arrangement by Erich Kahl, and that she would arrive Wednesday. She said her lover had suggested that she should arrange a sign with Sternberg by which he would know her, and wrote that her choice had first fallen on a rose. She explained at the hotel yesterday that roses were so common and were carried by so many ladies that she had convinced herself that something more would be necessary so that no mistake would ensue, and for her final decision had chosen the umbrella to accompany the rose as the sign by which Sternberg should know her.

"With a rose in one hand and in the other an umbrella," she wrote in German, "I will await you."

WARRIORS OF SANTA ANNA CELEBRATE DAY

Mexican War Veterans to Observe Anniversary of Last Battle

With a guard of honor made up of regular soldiers, militia and state university cadets, the veterans of the campaigns in Mexico, who regard the fighters of the civil war as young men, will celebrate today the sixtieth anniversary of the capture of Santa Anna's capital by General Winfield Scott. There are only 250 left in California of the men who fought their way through 300 miles of hostile country to the castle of San Juan de Ulloa and not all of those will be present this morning at the Presidio, where the celebration takes place. The youngest of Polk's volunteers has passed 75, the oldest is on the verge of a completed century, and many will be unable to take part in the exercises arranged to do honor to the commander who ended the war with the southern republic.

General Funston, Admiral Lyon and officers of the army and navy, with the veterans of the civil and Spanish wars, the university cadets and Winfield Scott school, will take part. Major E. A. Sherman is the commander of the Mexican war survivors.

The program will begin at 10:30 with the firing of a salute by Captain Hall B. Rand of Oakland, who will use the flintlock musket his grandfather carried at the battle of Bunker hill, the first serious engagement of the American revolution.

Captain Shand still missing. Process servers, after searching for Captain Shand of the British ship Blackbraes for more than a week, have abandoned the hunt. Hugo Ritter, who claims that he was a fiancé and who was taken off the Blackbraes on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge Graham, appeared in court yesterday, but was allowed his liberty. Attorney Hutson, appearing for the firemen's union, of which Ritter is a member, said that it had been found impossible to find Shand and bring him before the court, and that he could not see that any purpose would be served by holding Ritter any longer. The Blackbraes left for Scotland last week, the owners having by cablegram authorized the appointment of another captain.

TRIAL AT THE PRESIDIO IS NEARING CONCLUSION

Arguments in the Grindley Courtmartial to Be Made Tuesday. The taking of testimony in the Grindley courtmartial at the Presidio was completed yesterday and the case will be argued Tuesday afternoon. The principal witnesses at the session yesterday were Colonel Adam Slaker, the commander of the forces at Fort Baker, and Captain Edwin C. Long. Both testified on behalf of the prosecution, in regard to the character of Lieutenant Jones, who brought the charges against Sergeant Grindley.

These witnesses were brought in to combat the evidence adduced by the defense in its efforts to impeach the testimony of Jones. Colonel Slaker said that he considered Jones to be a good, reliable and efficient officer and that if Jones had made any mistakes in his office as quartermaster these mistakes resulted from his lack of experience in that department. Colonel Slaker also said that he considered Jones as being truthful, attentive to his duty and as far as honesty and integrity of purpose was concerned he thought Jones was a first rate quartermaster.

AMUSEMENT COMPANIES FORMED

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Royal amusement company. The capital stock is $50,000. Each of the following directors has subscribed for one share at $100: W. H. Weber, A. G. Weber, J. G. Dewey, H. G. Davis and Adolph Dohring. The Thalia amusement company, with a capital of $10,000, also filed articles of incorporation yesterday. The directors are: Joseph Watkins, D. B. Angburn and David Becker. Each subscribed for one share at $5.

H. L. SCHMITZ' MONEY ATTACHED

Judge Hunt signed an order yesterday directing the Western national bank to pay to the sheriff $55.80 on deposit there to the credit of Herbert L. Schmitz. The order was made on the application of Charles D. Taylor, who had been unable to obtain from Schmitz and his fellow members of a former board of works payment of the sum awarded him in a suit for damages against the board.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF CITY CHARTER ATTACKED

Suit of Policeman for Pay Involves Other Claims for $40,000. The constitutionality of that portion of the city charter which requires that all claims against the city must be presented to the auditor within one month after becoming due was attacked in a brief filed by Attorney Stephen Costello yesterday in the case of George Gelmann against the police commission. Gelmann is one of the 357 policemen who were given compulsory leaves of absence in July, 1906, there being no need for their services at that time. He claimed $102—one month's salary. The answer of the city was that the claim was not presented within one month of becoming due, as the charter required.

Costello argued in his brief that the section of the charter was in conflict with both the state and national constitutions, inasmuch as it conferred judicial power upon the auditor, who was merely a ministerial officer. If the contention of Costello is upheld, the suit will be governed by the statute which allows two years within which to bring a claim against a debtor. This is the first time that the constitutionality of the section of the charter referred to has been assailed. The suit of Gelmann is regarded as a test case. Nearly $40,000 is involved in the claims of the policemen who were suspended temporarily.

HERO OF CLIFF HOUSE FIRE IS COMPLIMENTED

H. J. Temple's Name Inscribed on Book of Meritorious Conduct. The fire commissioners ordered the name of H. J. Temple, engineer of engine 36, inscribed yesterday on the book of meritorious conduct for his gallant behavior at the Cliff house fire. Temple's engine was close to the burning building, and, despite the scorching of its wheels, Temple stuck to his post and his companions were compelled to spray him with water to prevent his being burned.

The commissioners promoted Lieutenant S. Rocco to the captaincy of engine 34, and appointed Joseph Gramham, hostman, and John H. Muller, truckman, from the civil service list. J. H. Wilkins, former proprietor of the Cliff house, sent a letter commending Fireman F. S. Klats for rescuing him from the burning building.
