

Oakland's Only Locally Owned Locally Controlled Daily Paper

Oakland Tribune

OAKLAND, CALIF., MONDAY, JANUARY 11, 1937

GUARANTEED DELIVERY... Phone LA 6-6000 before 8:00 P. M. (Sunday, 11:30 A. M.) and your paper will be sent at once.

GOLFERS FROLIC AS SNOW BLOCKS GAME

Golfers at Orinda took time out this morning to build snowmen and knock a few snowballs around as well as their golf balls. Mrs. Joseph Varney (left) and Maurine Donaldson found plenty of the soft, white substance prepared for Water modeling right out on the fairways.—Tribune photo.

The caddies may wear overcoats and earmuffs, and the golfers may wear arctic, but it's still "sunny California." At the Orinda Golf Club today Miss Maurine Donaldson, promising young amateur, got her first chance at bathing Old Man Winter as well as a pat. The volunteer caddy is Warren Harold.—Tribune photo.

The 16th fairway at the Orinda Golf Club looked more like a green and snow-baked golf course. Snow blanketed the dips and knolls, and in its hang from the neighboring trees. Some golf "bugs" went around the course on snowshoes.—Tribune photo.

SISTER HELD IN FATAL SHOOTING

PAALO ALTO, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Anna Buckley, 86, lay near death at the Palo Alto Hospital today as police investigated the fatal shooting of her sister, Miss Sarah Nolan, 63, and the wounding of Mrs. Buckley.

Three Hurt by $50,000 Fire in S. F. Apartments

Two women and a man were injured today in a fire which swept two San Francisco apartment houses, causing two dozen people to flee by fire escape.

FAMILY VISITS CCC MEN SEEK REMOTE PORTS & LOST IN SNOW

Following down the west coast of Mexico aboard their motor yacht this Mr. W. F. Holcomb, Oakland physician, and his family are enjoying a variety of experiences in little-known tropical ports, according to letters to their friends here.

Oakland Women Trapped By Snow; Shelter in Mine

The cold threatens more damage to Northern California crops, which already have been hurt to the extent of about $2,000,000 during the past week.

YACHTING IN TROPICAL SEAS

Sailing leisurely down the west coast of Mexico on a "yolote," vacationists are Mrs. Ida Holcomb (center) and her daughter, Elizabeth, 11, and John, 11. Other members of the expedition are Dr. W. F. Holcomb, Oakland physician, and their son-in-law, George Oyer.

Continuance Granted Suspect in Holdups

A week's continuance was granted today to Robert C. Mead, 30-year-old Berkeley, arrested last month for robbery of several dress shops and laundries, when he appeared before Superior Judge Edward J. Tyrrel for charges.

Search for 17-Year Old Girl Unavailing

State-wide search for blind, 17-year-old Virginia McKelton, the Berkeley High School student, who disappeared on Monday, Dec. 28, continued today, day today with no clue.

Depositions Sought in Pinza Balm Case

Attorney in the Ocala Pinchuk-Koza Pinza $200,000 heart balm controversy is playing "Til she see your deposition first and then I'll show you mine."

Woman Ends Life By Slashing Wrists

The same woman slashed by a safety razor blade, Mrs. Kathleen Hammer, 44, was found dead early yesterday in a hotel room in San Francisco.

FLYERS DROP FOOD TO MARQUON MINERS

National Guard fliers dropped foodstuffs for 38 men stranded at an Inyo County sulphur mine, one day from the open where Mine Alexander and her companion are prisoners, reportedly still held.

Bank Robber's Bail Is Set at $10,000

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—James T. Head, 32, ex-convict who robbed the Bank of America branch of the Bank of America at more than $1000 in a holdup in 1929, was arraigned today before Police Judge Oliver Young on a charge of robbery.

HENKED BY STOVE

THURON, Jan. 11.—Patrick McGrath, 31, Union Fish Company employee here, suffered critical burns today when he backed into and overturned a portable oil stove.

INDIAN FROZEN

Last Thursday night near Warner's first Springs in the San Diego Mountains, Pablo Delgado, 28, was found frozen to death Sunday.

CITRUS LOSSES FROM COLD HIT $10,000,000

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—Forecast of a rise from icy temperatures caused farmers of South California's $100,000,000 citrus crop today, while a new storm cut ried rain and snow to northern California.

PLAYS IN SNOW

Disk at attempting to work from the snow but the most showed from the snow. Mrs. Joseph Varney (left) and Maurine Donaldson found plenty of the soft, white substance prepared for Water modeling right out on the fairways.—Tribune photo.