OAKLAND TRIBUNE

RICHARD DEY'S BED WAS OF FABULOUS VALUE

Initials in each case stand for Samuel Morgan. In New York and Washington on several occasions the eloquent attorney has seen fit to register his name in full, an act which has caused bad managers to sit up and take notice and wonder how close their guest's relationship with J. Pierpont might be.

Sweet Morsel for Sprechels

While Rudolph Sprechels is championing the presidential election, Governor Johnson and Editor Rowell of Fresno for their desertion of him in favor of Roosevelt, his favorite brother, Chas. A. Sprechels, is telling friends both here and in the East that he agrees with the legislative program of the Democratic majority of the House headed by Champ Clark.

Some Big Fees for Lawyers

According to gossip among San Francisco lawyers, Charles Sileston Wheeler is to get the largest fee of $500,000 from Rudolph and C. A. Sprechels and their sister, Mrs. Emma Ferris de London, for the way he directed the litigation over their father's will, the validity of which was sustained some days ago by the State Supreme Court.

Probably some other attorneys here have in their practice received just as large, or even a larger, fee. I know of only one other instance definitely. It was when the late Russell J. Wilson, acting for Timothy Hopkins, fought the Mark Hopkins-Seearles estate in the East and got a compromise. Timothy Hopkins is said to have been given $8,000,000 and Wilson's fee was $500,000.

Millionaires Who Married Actresses

R. P. Cheney of Boston, who was visiting the city a few days ago, is one of the rich men of this country who married an actress. Mrs. Cheney is the former Julia Arthur and her husband is said to represent a fortune of between fifty and sixty millions. George Jay Gould, August Belmont and Frank J. Gould are probably the only other three Americans of equal wealth who took actresses as brides.

Interesting Fight for Tunnel

The fight for a tunnel toward the north end of Fillmore street in order to connect the thoroughfare with the Harbor View section, where the exposition is largely to be concentrated, presents some interesting phases.

Of course, the property owners, through their Fillmore street club, want to have the work done under the district assessment plan. It is estimated by engineers the tunnel will cost $2,000,000. Other improvement clubs want the tunnel on Steiner, the first street to the west of Fillmore.

Dr. Harland and Herbert E. Law, who are a lot of blocks at Harbor View which they have turned over to the exposition company for two years, want to have the tunnel assessment on Fillmore street. They have just sent word from the East they are willing to pay 40 per cent, the exposition people to stand the other 60.

High Priced Tea Tasters

One of the last Pacific Mail liners for Japan and China from this port carried among its passengers twenty men, drawing large salaries, whose business it is to taste and otherwise sample and to buy for American and European consumption such new tea crop of the Chinese and Japanese.

Makes Rapid-fire Comments

He's a wag and a wit. She is veering near the end of her tether. Both of their professions in society are splendid. A great friend of the lady and the members of her family is her frequent companion and with hardly enough of his wit to keep his own social head afloat, he is not considered just a dog in the parade as an eligible, but rather a rapid-fire comment which no one else would dare to do.

SOME BIG FEES PAID TO CALIFORNIA LAWYERS

found walking his best exercise both for health and pleasure. And so-day after day, until he moved to a home at Menlo Park, Hays, with swinging golf, walked much in the park and along the beach.

Policeman Did Not Know Farley

Since John Farley sold out the Cliff House to Roy Caruthers, Sam Roker, "Big Bill" Lange and their cohorts, the police on horseback and the dwellers along the coast highway have missed one of their familiar sights during rainy mornings.

"Get the rain from the clouds direct on your skin. Get soaked with rain out in the open," my boy. That's the cure of nature for advancing age and whatnot.

"What did you do that you didn't have time to get all your clothes?" "I'm John Farley. What's getting into you?" "The 'how'—you say."

St. Cloud's Country Club One of the reasons the Francis J. Carolans are returning to Paris this spring for an extended visit is the fact that Mr. Carolans is a member of the new St. Cloud's Country Club, the first of its kind in the world.

No World View of Things

The attractive and talented Countess Louise de Ferre of Paris is amazed that her smoking of cigarettes in public here should cause in much comment, newspaper and otherwise, and is provoked into saying, with a stamp of her dainty footstep: "I am not proud of my smoking. No world view of things."

Dick Dey's Costly Bed

Mention was made in the Knave several Sundays ago about Richard V. Dey of this city, who, being the estate of a French countess, a former American, in New York for $15,000, claimed as money advanced her by him during several years before her death.
