Towns Bombed By British Airplanes

LONDON, July 31.—The Air Ministry's communication on aerial activities issued tonight follows: "In addition to the attacks already reported on the 30th instant the station at Lehr (Bairn) was bombed. On the night of July 30-31 our airplanes again proceeded to Stuttgart and dropped nearly two tons of bombs on the Bosch magnesium works, the Daimler works and the railway station. A fire broke out in the station."

Cliff House Now in Charge of Watchman

The Cliff House is closed. Last night there was no light in its windows, and the seals out on the rocks could not be seen. But those who tried the locked front door to make sure of what the dark windows indicated remembered the recent order forbidding the sale or even the possession of liquors within the half-mile zone from the military posts.

Strike of Munition Hands Definitely Ends

LONDON, July 31.—The strike of munition workers caused by the Government embargo on skilled labor is definitely ended.

Swift & Company

Profits and Prices Profits may be considered from two angles: 1st—Their effect on prices; 2nd—As a return to investors.

When profits are small as compared with sales, they have little effect on prices.

Swift & Company's profits are only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold, and if eliminated entirely would have practically no effect on prices.

Swift & Company paid 10 per cent dividends to over 20,000 stockholders out of its 1917 profits. It also had to build extensions and improvements out of profits; to finance large stocks of goods made necessary by unprecedented requirements of the United States and Allied Governments; and to provide protection against the day of declining markets.

Is it fair to call this profiteering?

PASSENGERS OF WRECKED LINER ARRIVE IN PORT

Salvage Boats and Barges Sent in Effort to Save $4,000,000 Cargo

A CANADIAN PACIFIC PORT, July 31.—Officers and passengers of the stranded passenger liner Canada Maru arrived here today with the consolation that they believed there was little chance of floating the big boat, which piled up on a reef yesterday as she neared the end of a run from the Orient with cargo said to be worth about $4,000,000.

The Canadian salvage steamer Savor has gone to the scene of the wreck, but on account of a heavy swell has been unable to get near the Canada. Barges have also been taken to the wreck in the hope the cargo may be unloaded.

The Canada is exposed to the winds and currents of the open Pacific, and local salvage crews have also been taken to the wreck in the hope the cargo may be unloaded.

Wireless reports received here late tonight say the crew of the wrecked Japanese steamer Canada Maru worked all day throwing cargo overboard from the bow of the vessel.

The Canada Maru is described as a better work than "Old Wives for New." A distinguished cast of players will impersonate the various roles, and will include Kathlyn Williams, Theodore Roberts, Elliott Dexter, Thurston Hall, Wanda Hawley and Tully Marshall.

FLEET BOARD FIXES LABOR DRAFT STATUS

Deferred Classification Is Only for Those Whose Services Are Vital

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Only employees whose loss would retard ship production will retain "emergency fleet" deferred classification in the selective draft. It was announced tonight by the Emergency Fleet Corporation. All applications of employees for such deferred classification must be approved by division heads and finally passed on by Howard Cooney, vice-president.

The United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation seeks "emergency fleet listing" deferred classification in draft, or delay in induction into military service for a drafted man, it is to be clearly understood that such a request will be confined to cases where the qualifications of and services which are being rendered by the drafted man, are from the National viewpoint, more essential for ship production than for military service.

Reports of employees as to their status under the selective service act are to be sent Vice-President Cooney at Philadelphia before August 10. The reports will be referred to division and section chiefs, who will be required to submit a brief to Cooney, giving reasons why the men are necessary for ship construction than for military service.

In commenting on the order, Cooney made the following statement: "The officers of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation feel that they should be exempted for those individuals only who have special experience and ability, which make them essential to the successful carrying out of the shipbuilding programme. In such cases the officials took the position that it is the duty of the individual to subordinate a natural desire for active service at the front, to greater service which he can render in the shipbuilding programme. It is, therefore, his patriotic duty to be governed by our judgment in the matter. In cases other than these, it is felt that the greatest national good can be rendered by entering the military service."
