

First Round of Olympic Club's Annual Golf Tourney Today

Finals of Presidio Club President's Trophy Play Scheduled for Sunday

Sequoyah, Mill Valley and Beresford Also Have Deciding Matches Planned for the Week-End

By HAY CHAPMAN
THIS WEEK-END'S GOLF
Olympic Club—This afternoon, commencing at 1 o'clock, first round of the club's fourth annual championship; Sunday a. m., closed round; p. m., third round.
Presidio Golf Club—Today, semi-finals of president's trophy tournament. Sunday, final over 36 holes.
Sequoyah Country Club—Today, semi-finals of the sixth annual birthday tournament; finals tomorrow.
Mill Valley Country Club—Today, semi-finals of directors' cup tournament.
Beresford Country Club—Sunday a. m., mixed foursome tournament; entries to be registered today.

THE first round of the Olympic Club's fourth annual championship at Lakeside this afternoon promises to produce some interesting matches, though any kind of golf at Lakeside this weather is bound to be interesting and delightful to victor and vanquished alike, provided only that they love the game for its own fine sake as well as being properly keen over the results of every hole played. It is the golfer who is 4 or 5 down at the turn and yet keeps his heart up and, of course, his head down, who gets the most out of golf.

Carrigan or Chance May Lead Boston Red Sox

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The view of insiders is that one of two men, Frank Carrigan, or Bill Chance, will be the next manager of the Boston Red Sox, to succeed Hugh Duffy. According to one authority, Frazee can sign either of them if he wants to, this despite the widespread impression that Carrigan was through with baseball after his resignation as manager of the Red Sox.

McMillan-Erlin Match Should Be Good

Another good match scheduled for the first round is between Eaton McMillan, who spends too much time on Van Ness avenue to keep his capital gains in shape, and George Erlin, who makes time for a comeback from his prolonged slump, due mainly to lack of practice, and both these former city champions are always dangerous customers anywhere.

There are two youngsters, Stanton Haight and Earl Brown, playing in their first Olympic championship, and before the tournament is over one of them may surprise some of the older hands. Much depends on the weather during the next three weeks. Curiously enough, the old boys endure the rain and the wind at Lakeside better than the fat-blooded lads. They have battled offener against the elements and their skin is thicker. But though it will be another glorious tribute to our California Indian summer if we get through this tournament without a storm, a variety of weather will be just as it should be, for a fair-weather golfer is no golfer at all.

THE SEMI-FINAL matches at the Mill Valley Country Club's directors' cup tournament are: Charles Kuntze (6) vs. H. F. Marshall (3), and Frank Walsh (0) vs. Arthur Smith (7).

Bob Clark, who has been professional at the Mill Valley club since its opening three years ago, is resigning his position at the end of the year. It is understood that he is one of many applicants for the new berth with the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club, the enthusiastic members of which hope to be playing on their new course within three or four months.

WILLIE LOCK, who designed the Lake Merced club's course and who also has been in charge of construction for nearly a year, has made haste slowly and wisely in the matter of sowing the putting greens. The fairways have been glistening with green for many weeks while Lock has been asked the same question over and over again: "When are you going to sow your putting greens?" Politely enough Willie would invariably reply, "when they are good and ready."

The truth is that he has raised crop after crop of weeds until their final extirpation, and with every audience after the rain and the rain and lots of it followed by plenty of warm sunshine during the day. Hence the sowing of the putting greens was only commenced a week or ten days ago and nature will kindly do his work in the kind and if all goes rightly and nothing goes wrong—hardly to be expected in anything to do with golf or a course—these greens may look ready for play in six weeks. But that is not saying it would be wise to play on them.

Tennis Rankings From Northwest

The Pacific Northwest annual tennis rankings have arrived, with Leon S. Turenne heading the list, the second position, Van Dyke Johns in second position. Van returned from Honolulu with his wife immediately after their marriage in the islands, and has been in business in Seattle the past summer.

From the high ranking he received, he must have had an opportunity of hitting a little practice now and then. Marshall Allen, another Seattle youth and a player whom Bill Tilden thought two years ago to bear promise of championship caliber, is in third place, having dropped a couple of notches. A total of ten men were ranked, and here they are:

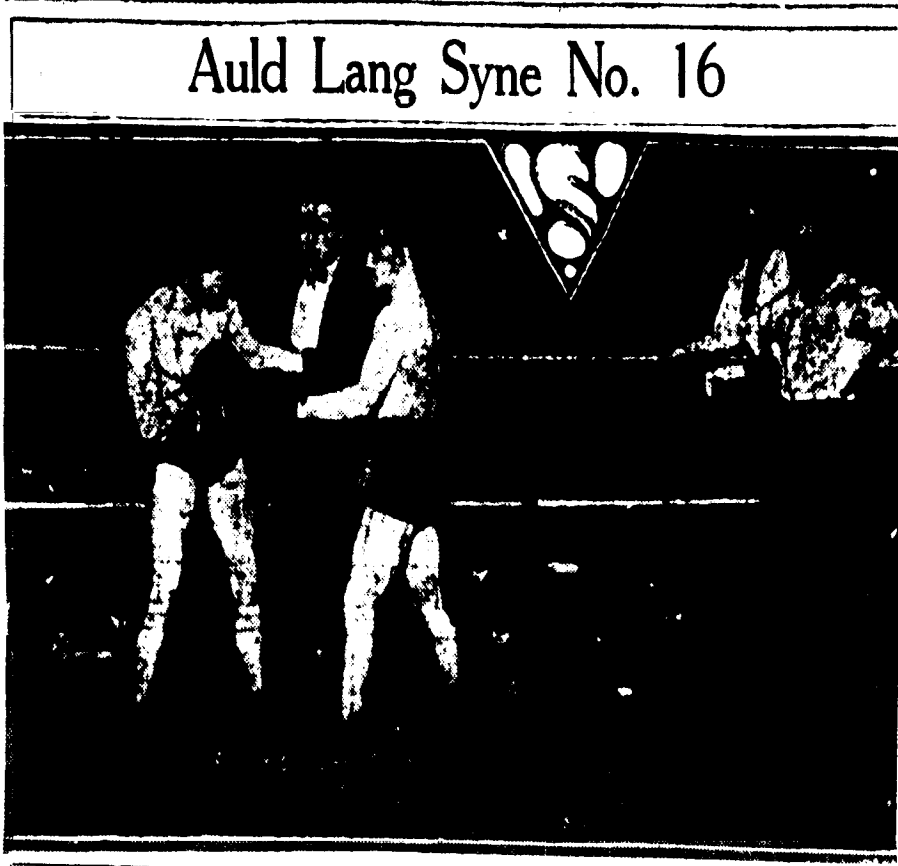

- 1—Van Dyke Johns
- 2—Leon S. Turenne
- 3—Marshall Allen
- 4—Van der Laan
- 5—Van der Laan
- 6—Durr
- 7—Durr
- 8—Robert Rogers
- 9—Loring
- 10—Loring

25 YEARS AGO TODAY IN SPORTS

The Baltimore defeated the All-Americans in baseball game played at Recreation park.

Tom Jenkins of Cleveland won a wrestling match with "Farmer" Burns in straight falls at Indianapolis.

T. H. Williams, president of the California Jockey Club, announced that the club would take no dictation from any body of horsemen as to the size of the purses—not less than $100—at the Oakland track.

S. B. U. C. Cubs To Play Pomona

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—Coach Harry Trotter of the Southern Branch, University of California football team, says he is confident that his Cubs will defeat Pomona College, one of the leaders in the Southern California football conference, when the squads meet at the Pomona field here tomorrow.

It is too bad, of course, the Australian could not have gained his first impression from such a game as California and Ohio State, as G. L. Oxnard suggests in a letter just received.

However, he may see something more typical of our college sport this afternoon, and will certainly see a great team in action when the Golden Bear tackles Nevada. From a standpoint of who will win there cannot be much interest, perhaps, but the stranger in our midst ought to have a treat in spite merely by watching the Blue and Gold.

Referring again to the letter from Oxnard, he makes a suggestion that is unique, at all events. He says:

"Once in a long time a little man shines in football, like Bradshaw and Huggs; or a Poe comes along and thrills the football world. But football as we know it is a big man's game, and I believe if the colleges had five teams arranged according to weight, as in boxing, the boys would get a great deal more out of the game, and perhaps we would see faster football."

The idea might be a fine one from the standpoint of furnishing the boys with more football, but it would get away from the scheme of having a championship team, and that would rob us of our thrills.

ANOTHER Saturday-after today's games—with a few scattering A matches on Thanksgiving day, and football will be a matter of retrospection, for the most part.

In California we are more fortunate in that two post-season games will carry the season through to the first of the year. There will be comparatively little interest perhaps in the Pasadena affair, though should U. S. C. be selected acquaintance with that team will make the contest worth while.

If Pittsburg can by any possibility get over the hurdle today with W. and J., as some of the Eastern critics seem to think may be the case, and then join Penn State, the December 30 game at Stanford will assume considerable importance.

Max at Last Can Watch the Seals

At last, after many a year of waiting and yearning, Max Breitman, who, for fifteen years, was maitre d'hotel at John T. O'Farrell street, is a happy man. Recently Max was snapped up by Richard Roberts, boss of the Cliff House, and made maitre d'hotel of the famous beach retreat. And that is why Max is happy—really happy—for the first time in fifteen years. You see, Max loves the seals who live at Seal Rocks, but for fifteen years last past Max has been unable to visit them with tithes of fresh fish and the like. But now, since Max and his big smile are fixtures at the Cliff House, the famous maitre d'hotel can indulge his hobby to his heart's content. So, if Max happens to leave you fat without notice, you may be sure that he is headed for the fish box to do his stuff.

Neptune May Be Bounced Out of Lead in Soccer

NEPTUNE is leading in the Bay Cities Soccer League by the margin of two points at the conclusion of the first round of the schedule. Neptune probably will increase its lead tomorrow in its game with the Foresters, for the latter team has not done much in the race so far, and the Neptune outfit is going like a house on wheels. At that, the Foresters may show some speed and turn out a victory.

Three Big Games In Middle West

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Three undated contenders for the Western Conference gridiron championship will risk their chances against dangerous opponents tomorrow in games which probably will narrow the competition for the title.

Independent League

The Independent Midwinter League enters upon its fourth week of play tomorrow at Jackson playgrounds. At 12:30 o'clock in the Indoor Yacht Club and the Yosemite Markets meet with the following batteries: I. Y. C. Erickson or McCintock and Huber; Rudolph and Villa. At 2:30 o'clock the California Natives and Jeffersons will play with Amaric and Wandroth forming the battery for the Natives and Gensley and Beck performing for the Jeffs.

St. Mary's Plays Olympic Clubmen Here Tomorrow

St. Mary's and the Olympic Club football teams will meet at Recreation Park tomorrow afternoon in a game that may completely upset the odds on the big game between Santa Clara and St. Mary's on Thanksgiving day. If St. Mary's should happen to sneak over a win on the club men, who are not as strong as they were earlier in the season, the Santa Clara roster's idea of the big clash would be entirely changed.

The Olympic Club has beaten Santa Clara 9 to 0. Coach "Bill" Madigan of St. Mary's expects to make a better showing. It will be the first time since the opening of the season that he is able to send in his strongest lineup. Injuries have kept one or more of his regulars almost perfect. The great Notre Dame aerial attack is due for a big play against the club men tomorrow. At Arizona last week the St. Mary's griders completed 22 out of 24, yet fumbles cost them their chances of benefiting any from the plays. Tomorrow Madigan hopes to exhibit the real type of football his charges are able to offer.

Last year St. Mary's walked the Olympics before one of the largest Sunday crowds of the season. For this reason Coach Bob Evans wants the club men to clean the slate. The game will commence at 2:30 o'clock. The lineups are as follows:

Crocker Quintet Leads Retailers

The H. C. Crocker Company basketball team last night went into the lead in the Retail Athletic Association race when it defeated the A. Carlisle five by the score of 25 to 19 at the Emporium court.

The Emporium seating room was entirely occupied and much enthusiasm was displayed. These two teams were tied for first place, so the Crocker team now leads. In the first game of the evening Schwabacher & Frey defeated Sommer & Kaufmann, 45 to 12.
